CANADA REJECTS PLAN TO SEND EUROPE ARMY

3,000 Red Troops In Allied Trap

Threat to Pohang Airfield Is Lifted By Secret Sweep

By LEIF ERICKSON

TOKYO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A swift-striking United Nations task force rammed shut a trap today on 3,000 North Koreans on the northeast front.

The secret sweep by a composite force of Americans and South Koreans was led by Brig-Gen. Gar Davidson, former west point football star.

Davidson's speedy end run across what he called "billygoat" terrain—or worse—sealed the southern gate of a mountain corridor northwest of Kyongju. It lifted a major Communist threat to important Pohang airfield on the Korean east coast.

DAY'S HIGHLIGHT

It was the highlight of the day's action on the whole 125-mile front, which was whipped by the fringes of a typhoon.

To the west, the South Korean 8th division punched several miles ahead in their drive east of Yongdhon. It has thrust 12 miles in three days.

Units of the division wheeled as much as nine miles north of the Yongchon-Kyongju road.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said the allies still do not hold a solid line along the northeast front. It was breached last week by the Reds. But United Nations forces can throw fire on any point, MacArthur's spokesman added.

SITUATION 'FLUID'

North and northwest of Taegu, the situation was described as "continuously fluid."

Associated Press correspondent Jack Macbeth said U.S. 1st cavalry units launched another attack Wednesday morning against an important Communist-held hill eight miles due north of Taegu. This was in the immediate area where the American troops stormed and won a peak Tuesday in a bitter day-long battle.

Red Koreans pushed U.S. 1st cavalry division troops off a hill nine miles northwest of Taegu near the Waegwan-Taegu road. 1st cavalry elements, MacArthur's communique reported, seized high ground "north of the Waegwan area" Tuesday night.

"They make gains and we make gains," a spokesman said. "They push us and then we push them."

The Naktong river and southwest fronts were relatively quiet.

Alberta's Surplus Is Record

1949 Revenues Reach All-Time High in Province

Nearly 100 million dollars was paid into the Alberta treasury in the year ending March 31, 1950.

The all-time record revenue, together with an expenditure and a surplus both unequalled in Alberta's previous history, was reported today by C. K. Hucknale, CA, provincial auditor.

Altogether the province took in $99,553,103 and paid out $55,000,207 in services, grants and debt charges and $16,705,758 in capital expenditures.

That left an over-all surplus of $28,838,176—by far the biggest of the annual surpluses which have been reported regularly since 1936.

Income was far above the $68,000,000 which the government estimated at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Oil revenues in the current boom accounted for the largest slice of income above estimates.

At the beginning of the fiscal year, the government anticipated receiving $6,500,000 as the purchase price of leases to its crown-owned oil lands and $4,500,000 from royalties and rentals of property already under lease.

FAR OVER ESTIMATE

But oil companies paid 20 million dollars more than the government had expected. Altogether, rentals, royalties and purchase price of leases yielded $32,370,425. Of that amount more than 23 million dollars was paid for oil leases.

But other sources of income also yielded higher revenue than was anticipated.

Instead of receiving eight million dollars in gasoline and fuel oil tax, the government took in $10,363,296 from this source.

Motor vehicle licence fees—estimated at $4,583,075 — actually amounted to $5,597,087.

Liquor profits were more than two million dollars more than anticipated — $11,971,017 instead of $9,500,000.

OTHER INCREASES

Other sources of revenue which showed increases were subsidies and real and personal property tax, amusement tax, mineral tax, succession duties, grazing fees and rentals, Land Titles Act, patients' maintenance charges at mental hospitals and old people's homes, school land fees rentals and royalties, and fines and penalties.

Of the $3 million dollars of the income account spent by the government the biggest single lump sum went to public welfare, institutions and charitable grants. Maintenance of these public wel-

Early City Council Action On 'Miracle Mile' Is Sought

New York backers of the $28,000,000 Miracle Mile project seek early action by the city council on yesterday's split decision by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

S. H. McCuaig, KC, counsel for First New Amsterdam Corp. of New York, said the New York Corp., is writing Acting Mayor Richard Hanna immediately requesting speedy action, through a special council meeting if necessary.

Mr. McCuaig said it seems likely that city council will order a vote of the burgesses on the project. He said that President Clarence Y. Pellitz of New Amsterdam Corp., has expressed a willingness to abide by the decision of Edmonton taxpayers.

Acting Mayor Hanna yesterday said it is virtually certain that council will call for a plebiscite.

City officials had received no request from First New Amsterdam Corporation for a special city council meeting, up to noon today.

Hanna said he sees no need for a special meeting, because the Miracle Mile agreement and its submission to a November ratepayers' vote will come up at the next regular council meeting a week from Monday.

"There will be plenty of time to consider the matter before the civic election," he said.

Proposal Made By Churchill

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons today that the government is not considering the raising of a Canadian force for dispatch to Europe "as a deterrent" to aggression on that continent.

Referring directly to Winston Churchill's suggestion that Canada might dispatch two or three divisions to Europe, the prime minister said the government has had no such suggestion from any of the "governments"—and he emphasized the word "governments"—of the North Atlantic treaty nations.

It has, he said, had suggestions in recent weeks from the deputies of the North Atlantic Council regarding the provision of arms and other military aid to Europe.

Mr. St. Laurent, joining the lengthening budget debate, spoke after John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) had mentioned Mr. Churchill's proposal, made yesterday in the British House of Commons.

Th prime minister said it was "not surprising" to hear opposition members echoing Mr. Churchill's words and putting them forward as a "great challenge to the Canadian people."

But, Mr. St. Laurent added, it should not be forgotten that Mr. Churchill in the British House occupies the same position as that of George Drew, Progresive Conservative leader, in the Canadian house —that of official opposition leader.

And in this country, Mr. St. Laurent emphasized, decisions about the "formation and use" of Canadian troops were going to be made by the government of Canada with the approval of the parliament of Canada.

Earlier, Mr. Diefenbaker said parliament had a right to know before it adjourns the government's attitude on the question of providing troops for the defence of Europe.

External Affairs Minister Pearson was going to a meeting of foreign ministers of North Atlantic treaty countries in Washington. That meeting was to be followed by another of defence ministers of the treaty nations.

Parliament had a right to know the stand Canada would take at the meetings. The United Kingdom already had indicated the stand its ministers would take.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he could not see why parliament should be told to go home; that everything would be all right; that the government could be trusted.

"Parliament has a right to be consulted on matters of such importance."

Mr. St. Laurent said Canada's view now is that her most effective immediate contribution to the defence of Europe can be made through the provision of Canadian arms to those countries who have the potential soldiers but no arms to give them.

CASA Okays Marie Lee As An Amateur

The surface of Edmonton's swimming scene was restored to its usual placid state last night with the announcement that Marie Lee will be re-instated as a simon-pure performer.

The announcement came last night in the form of a letter from R. H. Kirkpatrick, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, stating that Miss Lee would again be qualified to compete as an amateur 90 days after the termination of her job as playground supervisor.

Possibility that Miss Lee was not an amateur, arose in the minds of the executive of the Edmonton Swimming Club when they discovered she was paid as playground supervisor with the Recreation Commission.

The ESC wrote Doris Elliott, secretary of the Alberta section of the CASA, and asked her to investigate Miss Lee's standing.

Miss Elliott wrote the president of CASA in Quebec, explaining the facts.

The president acting on rule 18, section "k" of the official handbook, which states in part—"an amateur is one who has never taught, pursued, or assisted in the practice of swimming or any other athletic exercise as a means of pecuniary gain . . ." immediately levied a 90-day suspension, pending full investigation of her amateur standing.

DUTIES EXPLAINED

The Recreation Commission wrote to Secretary Elliott, explaining Miss Lee's exact duties, and asked her to forward the letter to the president of the CASA.

Miss Elliott did this and after careful consideration, the executive of the CASA handed down their final ruling.

The CASA president quoted section "a" of rule 18 which also states: "—If no coaching, instruction or exhibition are given, such employment (playground attendant) does not qualify, but such athlete shall be ineligible for competition during the period of such employment and for a period of 90 days after the abandonment of such employment.—"

No copy of this amendment was in the files of the Alberta section of the CASA and this ruling from the president immediately clarified the situation.

Province Has Record Surplus

fare services cost the government $21,211,720.

Education took another big slice of the government's melon of public spending: education costs and school grants amounted to $10,617,681.

But these major expenditures were financed from income account.

BIG ROAD PROGRAM

The highway program was the biggest in the province's history. A total of $16,892,154 was spent on highways construction and maintenance and on bridges and ferries.

Of that expenditure more than five million dollars was paid for from income account and 11 million dollars from capital account.

Capital spending for the year amounted to $18,634,433, including the 11 million dollar highway expenditure, nearly four million dollars for public buildings and public works, one million dollars for the University of Alberta, and lesser amounts for the University hospital, irrigation projects, agricultural pests control, photographic survey, flood protection, and a $3,000 guarantee for radio station CKUA.

OTHER INCOME

Nearly two million dollars was returned to capital account in the form of receipts from such sources of revenue as the Alberta Government Telephones which accounted for $591,326, seed grain sales, guarantees collected, land sales and repayment of loans.

This reduced net capital expenditure to $16,705,758.

At the end of the record breaking fiscal year the province's accumulated surplus—counted from the formation of Alberta in 1905 to March 31 this year—had jumped to $34,644,587. A year before it amounted to $34,907,921.

Non-Confidence Divisions Today

House Rules Prevent Low From Moving Still Another

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(CP)—The Commons, driving towards a prorogation or adjournment, which may come tomorrow, is expected to vote today on two motions of non-confidence in the government.

They were introduced yesterday by the Progressive Conservative and CCF parties as the chamber opened debate on the stop-gap "baby" budget introduced last week to provide interim financing for Canada's expanding defence program.

The Progressive Conservative motion came from J. M. Macdonnell and charged that the government had "failed to take effective steps to curtail non-essential expenditures and improve the general efficiency of government."

The CCF amendment, introduced by Alistair Stewart (CCF, Winnipeg North), added an expression of regret that the government had "failed to protect the people of this country from profiteering by the imposition of an excess profits tax."

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, was prevented by house rules from introducing a third such motion, but he called on the government to introduce a compulsory savings plan, place subsidies under essential goods, remove taxes which cause inflation and bring the country's exports and imports into balance.

FINAL READING

Earlier, the Chamber gave third and final reading to the government bill authorizing the use of controls on essential materials and services needed for the defence program.

Mr. Macdonnell introduced his motion with the statement that the government was handling the cost-of-living problem with a "feather duster" and that Moscow would smile at Canada's "complacency and self-satisfaction" in her defence preparations.

Mr. Stewart, prodqcing the CCF amendment, said the government should have imposed an excess profi tax and raised the personal levies on individuals in the higher income brackets. The government's financial policy penalized the poor and protected the rich; hurt the weak and exempted the strong.

SOCREDS SPEAK

Mr. Low felt the budget provisions were "just about what the present situation calls for" and suggested the people themselves could help bring down the cost of living if they would refrain from buying goods when they saw evidence of profiteering.

Mr. Hansell felt the budget contained "an element of strategy" in that it was "letting the people down easy." However, the going might get tough later. To combat rising prices, he suggested "severe penalties" be provided for profiteering.

HUSH-HUSH WARSHIP TO BE BUILT IN B.C.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—(CP)—The Vancouver Sun in a newspage story today says that new warship contracts to the value of $12,000,000 are expected to be placed by Ottawa with British Columbia yards within the next week or 10 days.

"The stepped-up building program is expected to include a baby destroyer, costing in the neighborhood of $5,000,000," the Sun said.

The B.C. yards are expected to get orders for two major building jobs, plus a variety of re-fitting projects for the Royal Canadian Navy.

Defence Minister Claxton, speaking at the Banff convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said Tuesday the building program would double the present pace of warship construction. Orders will be placed in both east and west coast yards.

Presently contracted for on the building program are an $8,000,000 sub-chaser escort vessel and a $1,000,000 "hush-hush" minesweeper. The former job now is in the hands of Burrard Dry Dock Ltd., North Vancouver, while the latter is building at the Victoria machinery depot.

$115 Is Alta. Per Capita Receipts

Here's how the provincial government's record financial year affected the average Albertan:

On a per capita basis, the 860,000 Albertans each paid $115.76 into the provincial treasury.

The government collected this sum in a variety of ways—$46 in the form of fees, nearly $16 as taxes, seven dollars as licences, $14 as profits on government operated trading activities such as liquor stores.

More than $17 of the $115 was paid by each Albertan first to the Dominion government and then returned to the province under the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement. The remaining $15 came from miscellaneous sources, refunds and profits on revenue-producing assets.

GET BACK $81.07

On the other hand, Albertans each received from the government $81.07.

Of this amount $24 was the per capita share for public welfare, and more than $12 was the per capita share for education. About $19—made up of $12 from capital account and $6 from income account—went to highway and bridge construction and maintenance.

Debt charges cost the government $5 on behalf of each Albertan; general government costs were about the same; administration of justice and improvement of agriculture each accounted for nearly $2 of each Albertan's per capita share of spending.

Alta. Egg Men Can Supply Local Market

Alberta producers of eggs and chicks will likely be able to supply the local market, now that shipments from British Columbia are curtailed by a conditional embargo.

The embargo on poultry and poultry products reaching Alberta from British Columbia was imposed by provincial authorities early this week.

It is aimed at curbing the spread of Newcastle disease, which has affected two poultry flocks in this province. The disease is fairly common in British Columbia.

PROVINCE'S RULE

Under the provincial government's regulations only poultry and poultry products raised 25 miles from a Newcastle disease area and inspected and certified free of the disease will be admitted to Alberta.

The embargo is expected to cut shipments of poultry and eggs from the neighboring province which last year exported nine million chicks and one million eggs to Alberta.

Local producers will likely be able to meet the demand here, department of agriculture officials said today, and no shortages are anticipated.

Thugs Urged To Move On At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—"Keeping 'em moving" is the policy of Winnipeg cops.

Veteran officers say there was a time when Winnipeg was the rendezvous of wanted criminals from all parts of Canada and the northwestern United States.

But no more, they say. Detectives keep close tabs on all arrivals, advise them to "move on."

Those who disregarded this advice are taken in custody and given the choice of leaving town or serving a possible six-month stretch for vagrancy.

The transient criminal element is kept under observation by a daily check on cheap rooming houses and third-rate hotels. Pawn shops are regularly visited.

Chief Constable Charles MacIver said the Winnipeg method has come in for some criticism in the courts and from police departments in other cities.

But to Chief MacIver it's the "mark of an efficient police force."

Snatch Thief Still Sought

RCMP and city police are still hunting for the robber who snatched a briefcase containing more than $2,000 in cash and cheques from Jimmie Stewart, accountant for the Royal George Cafe, on 100A street, Monday afternoon.

The briefcase was found at the Union bus depot shortly after the theft, but the thief escaped with over $500 in cash.

Mesgre clues have been followed by a special detective detail assigned to the case but so far without results according to Chief Constable Reg. Jennings.

Circulars giving a description of the robber have been sent to police departments in every city in western Canada.

Centre Stripping Draws Praise

The city parks department got a pat on the back today for its work on the centre strip on 82 avenue.

"It is giving our tourists a real impression that we are an up-and-coming, progressive, city," Layton said.

It is hoped to construct 20 trailers here in the next year.

They will be used for transporting new cars from eastern factories to Alberta.

Matching With Stranger Brings Beating to City Man

Harry Andrusiak, 13018-132 street, started out matching pennies with a stranger early this morning and wound up in hospital.

In his report to the police Andrusiak said the stranger he met in the cafe matched coins with him for the coffee and he won.

Later he left with the stranger and at the corner of 94 street and 101A avenue he was attacked, knocked to the ground, kicked in the face and relieved of his wallet, which contained $37.

Andrusiak, after making a report to the police, was removed to Royal Alexandra hospital for treatment of lacerations and bruises to his face.

His condition is reported by hospital authorities as "satisfactory."

Police later combed the area for a suspect who was described as about five feet six, dark brown hair, chunky build, light colored jacket and pants and about 26 years of age.

Andrusiak told police the man was known to him as "Andy."

Cutting to Finish By Month's End

60 Per Cent of Wheat Cut And 16 Per Cent Threshed

Cutting of Alberta's grain crop will be completed by the end of this month, according to the provincial department of agriculture's bi-weekly crop report.

Frost damage, reported in varying degrees from almost every section of the province, is expected to cut yields. Peace River district was especially subject to early fall frosts.

Average wheat yields are expected to vary from eight to 23 bushels per acre, with coarse grains yielding from 17 to 45 bushels.

About 60 per cent of the wheat crop is now cut, and 16 per cent of it is threshed. Nearly half of the oats crop has been cut, and 12 per cent of it has been threshed. About 60 per cent of the barley crop in the province is now in stooks, with about 18 per cent already threshed.

Cutting of all crops will likely be completed by the end of the month.

ALFALFA GOOD

Alfalfa and brome are the only really good forage seed crops which will be harvested in this province. Frost damage to alfalfa crops in the Peace River area is not expected to affect alfalfa yield or quality seriously.

The brome seed crop is good, but there will be a short crop of creeping red fescue. Very little crested wheat grass or timothy have been harvested for seed.

Sweet clover crop will be small, with heavy frost damage to this crop reported in the Peace River district. Damage by sweet clover weevil has also reduced the crop.

Supply of other clover seed will be very limited as a result of winter killing and drought.

ENOUGH FEED

Satisfactory supplies of fodder and feed grain are reported to exist in most districts, and sufficient feed for cattle this winter is indicated.

Dairy receipts have dropped from three to five per cent below those of the same period a year ago, but this is believed to be the result of culling of older milk cows while the price of beef is high.

Collections Not for Court

The court must not be used as a collection agency.

This warning was given by Police Magistrate S. G. Main in sentencing Stephen Deckwith, former Leduc cafe owner, to 12 months' imprisonment on a false pretences charge today.

Deckwith, according to the evidence, raised money by a loan at two loan companies on the same automobile and when he was unable to make the payments, charges were laid.

Accused told court the money was used to finance and operate the resturant at Leduc and he intended, if given time, to pay back all the money he obtained.

There was a definite carelessness on the part of the complainants in advancing the money, the magistrate said before passing sentence.

A check with the registration bureau would have established the fact the car was already mortgaged, he said.

Writ Out for Missing Insurance Salesman

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Peter Wispinsky, missing Edmonton insurance salesman.

Police said that before he disappeared on Sept. 7 he cashed three N.S.F. cheques at a city department store.

The cheques, for amounts of $25, $215 and $250 have since been returned by the bank.

Wispinsky, object of a country-wide search, was employed by the Prudential Insurance Company and resided at 9832-74 avenue.

His disappearance was first reported to police by Ken Lewis, an executive of the insurance company. At that time he was carrying between $100 and $200, Lewis estimated.

ANOTHER SOUGHT

Police are also continuing their search for William Terry, 73, reported missing Sept. 8 by his daughter Mrs. R. McDermid, 7515-84 avenue.

Both north and south side police say though a careful search has been underway since he was first reported missing no trace of him has been found.

Terry, who was only out of a hospital a few weeks, was said to have been suffering from a heart condition.

Up to the Government

The will of the Alberta legislature with regard to the "Miracle Mile" development in Edmonton has not been implemented by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners.

Therefore there is a distinct and pressing burden of responsibility on the Alberta government to find some way in which the legislature's will may be carried out.

It was a reckless (or, at least, thoughtless) step on the part of the legislature to set up the two-man Board of Public Utilities Commissioners as a court of enquiry to determine whether or not the Detwiler agreement was of benefit to the city of Edmonton.

The obvious possibility of a stalemate within the Board itself was apparently not considered at all. The Board was instructed to return an affirmative or negative reply to a specific question with regard to the value of the Detwiler plan.

The Board has not answered that question. It has not fulfilled the instructions of the legislature. And, clearly, the government, the executive and administrative arm of the legislature, is responsible for discovering some means of which this duty imposed upon the Board may be adequately discharged.

A split decision is not a negative decision and it is sheer sophistry to pretend that it is.

One commissioner of the Board has found that the enterprise is in the best interests of Edmonton. The other commissioner has found that it is not.

Therefore the Board, as an entity, has said nothing at all and rendered no decision at all and the circumstances are exactly as they were before the hearings commenced.

The legislature has ordered certain things to be done.

They have not been done.

And the pertinent questions now are these:

1. Is the will of the legislature to be flouted by the failure of the Board to carry out its terms of reference?

2. Just what does the government propose to do about it?

No proponent of the Detwiler project fears an appeal to the burgesses of Edmonton because, no matter what a few large property owners may think, the home-owners and small property owners are thoroughly convinced that the city centre will be an immensely profitable undertaking for the city as a whole.

But it seems unfortunate that the city should incur the expense, inconvenience and delay of a plebiscite merely because a government body has failed to do what it was ordered to do by the legislature of this province.

Traffic Survey Should Come First

The city council is emphatically wrong to proceed with any expenditure of city money on the present high level bridge without preceding that expenditure with a professional traffic survey to determine the importance of the structure in future years.

The taxpayers have already endorsed the spending of $1,000,000 on the bridge. Another $250,000 is available from other city sources. The provincial government has agreed to contribute one-third of the total cost.

Nobody knows today what the cost of converting the structure to four-lane vehicular traffic on the top deck may be because, as council itself has admitted, increased costs and the shortage of steel have made the entire project uncertain.

Therefore, up to four or five million dollars conceivably could be tied up in tinkering with a bridge that, for all Edmonton taxpayers know, may become comparatively useless should traffic trends change in the next few years.

Some of the thinking must have been in the mind of Acting Mayor Hanna when he refused to support Monday's council resolution on the ground that no alternative proposal for another bridge had been included.

In other words, there must have been a serious doubt in his mind, as there is doubt in many citizens' minds, of the continued usefulness of the high level bridge—at any rate, to the extent of four million dollars worth.

Town Planner Noel Dant has expressed himself as being completely in favor of a professional traffic survey.

Since the location of bridges is essentially a town planning matter, it is inexplicable to many that Mr. Dant has not insisted upon a traffic survey preceding any decisions on the high level bridge.

It is true that traffic counts have been made on the bridge and elsewhere.

Traffic counts are not a traffic survey or anything like a traffic survey.

Traffic surveys deal with the origins and destinations of traffic which cannot possibly be determined by mere traffic counts.

It would be a tragic waste of public money to proceed with this expenditure without a complete, professional traffic survey.

It is surprising that Mr. Dant has not emphatically pointed this out to council.

New Fireproof Grandstand Needed

The citizens of Edmonton are not particularly concerned about the financial deal the city is able to make with the lessee of Renfrew Park for the replacement of the grandstand recently destroyed by fire.

But they are deeply concerned that a capacious fireproof grandstand be constructed in Renfrew Park in time for next year's baseball season.

The city of Edmonton is growing up.

And baseball, just as football, has become a part of the metropolitan life of the citizens.

The fine accommodations at Clarke Stadium are a source of civic pride. They enrich the life of the community.

There is no doubt about that when 8,500 persons crowd into the Stadium for every football game.

Moreover, the football service at Clarke Stadium will eventually become a major tourist attraction and bring hundreds of thousands of dollars to Edmonton.

Renfrew Park is in exactly the same potential position.

To be niggardly or dilatory over the replacement there will do incalculable harm to the city.

Letters to the Editor

Picture Clues

Editor, Bulletin—It could be that the Edmonton Flying Club is down the neck of some 'un-aviation-minded' photo finisher by this time. He seems to have taken the liberty to reverse the picture of the Mechanized Mademoiselle in last Saturday's paper. Could I be mistaken with the indication of at least four clues in this regard?

The plane is certainly an American type and yet the young lady is shown swinging that prop in true English style; even though it appears made to turn that way.

She is wearing her watch on the right wrist, but even that is unusual for a pilot.

Registration letters of planes must appear on the left lower wing panel.

You will need a mirror to read what appears to be the Western Propeller Limited label on the propeller.

All this observed despite the distraction of the winsome young pilot.

Whose Zoo?

Editor, Bulletin—Recently I had the pleasure to drive to the "Oil Centre of Northern Alberta," Edmonton. Although I only met a few days in your wealthy oil boom town, I armed myself with a map and your visitor's guide, and went to Borden Park and Zoo. This particular park seemed terrible run down and misused, but not nearly as decrepit and poor as the collection of animals and birds dignified under the label zoo.

It is understandable that Edmonton's northern situation and long winters raises almost insurmountable obstacles to the maintenance of a representative zoo. However, with this point in mind, it would seem wiser to forget about creating and maintaining a too and devote the city's 150,000-people effort to erecting and maintaining a first-class museum and stuff such animals and birds now in existence at Borden Park. The result would be more interesting and pleasing, and the climatic hazards would be more easily and less expensively overcome.

The one "Museum" I had time to glance over in your outstanding Parliament Buildings was a back room which took much more interest in your library.

That an outstanding provincial capital like Edmonton should designate a dusty, unseen collection of poorly displayed miscellany as a "museum" was pitiable.

Banff, which I passed through, and Kamloops, B.C., where I live, have displays and specimens which have your poor excuse faded in every way.

Surely the Edmonton Historical Association has enough members and workers to persuade some of Edmonton's "12½ percenters" to donate an old desk, or some income towards putting up and maintaining a worthwhile museum to hold and record this, your golden age.

Shocked By Dr. Smith

Editor, Bulletin—I am shocked by the following words by Dr. Roy L. Smith, International Council of Religious Education . . . "It is impossible for modern men of a devout mind to laugh off depressions, poverty in the midst of plenty, unequal opportunities, class discrimination, and other of our modern sins. The evils inherent in the Communist system are intolerable to a man who believes in the divinity of humanity and the sanction of the individual. But there are a few beams in the eye of capitalism which ought to be eliminated, and also a few planks in the eye of democracy which must be cast out."

I wish to point out to Dr. Smith that nobody outside his imagination "laughs off depressions, poverty, etc." as he seems to believe. If such callousness exists it is in Russia where slavelabor is allowed to die in its tracks while the top Communist brass live in luxury in the Crimea.

Next I wish to ask Dr. Smith if he realizes that, using the image of the "beams in the eye of capitalism," he implies that there is only a mote in the eye of Communism; that this is tantamount to creating despondency and defeatism within the ranks of those who are now needed to fight and die for the UN in Korea or elsewhere?

I submit that it is alright to have clergymen indulge in soul-searching meditations but that Dr. Smith is clearly overstepping the limits of propriety when he tries to make his readers believe that we do not see the greater evils inherent in capitalism and democracy while implying that we do see the smaller of evils of Communism. Coming from a member of the ICRE, such careless remarks are liable to do more harm to our morale than Stalin himself ever could with 100 of his satellite divisions.

One Endicott should be more than enough for Canadians. Yet, with that pro-Communist preacher we know perfectly where we stand; with Dr. Smith we apparently do not . . . as yet.

SERIOUSLY CONCERNED.

Truman Rapped

Editor, Bulletin—Truman and the mediocre men who surround him have imperilled the peace of the world by their tactics in Formosa and Indo-China. Russia will back China.

When Germany surrendered, Truman came on the air. I expected an expression of humility and gratitude. Imagine, if you can, our King uttering the words I heard: "We are the greatest and most powerful nation on the earth."

The cities of the Pacific Coast will lie in ruins if we allow Canada to be tied to the tail of the Truman kite which is trimmed to the political winds.

Smiles

It was a lovely day in New York, and the reveller stepped out of a restaurant, looked dreamily around him and hailed a taxi. "Driver," he said, "I want to go to 110th street. And drive carefully."

The cabby nodded and closed the door. As they passed the 50th street pier, he pointed to a big liner.

The reveller poked his head out of the window. "You don't shay!" he drooled. So that's the Queen Elizabeth, eh. Well, well, well!" He waved a hand. "Shtop the car, driver. I want to take a good look."

"Right," returned the cabby. The car came to a halt. The driver turned to his passenger. "Yes, sir," he commented, "she sure is a big one, isn't she? She'd be as big as the Empire State Building if you were to stand that boat up on end."

The other began to roll up his sleeves. "Okay", he bleeeughed. "But you'll have to give me a hand!"

Diner: "I suppose I can sit here till I starve."

Waiter: "No sir, we shut at 11 o'clock.

Jack Scott

Vive la Difference In Old Quebec

(Columnist Jack Scott is on a cross-Canada tour with his family in automobile and trailer.—EDITOR).

QUEBEC CITY, Que.—Suddenly all the signs along the highway are speaking in another tongue.

Ne stationnez pas sur le pavage. Arretez! Biere et vin. Traverse du chemin de fer! Lentement! Legumes a vendre. Creme glacee. Repas legar. Gardez le droit! Chambre et pension. Buvez Coca-Cola.

Well, you didn't expect them to be in Hindustani. But still you're not prepared to find French Canada so very French.

If you are coming this way by motor for the first time you feel as if you've passed a frontier into a foreign land and this inevitably sharpens your responses to atmosphere.

The 300-odd miles today from Ottawa here to fabulous Quebec—down the Ottawa Valley, paling with autumn, and around the rim of Montreal and on down the north bank of the broad St. Lawrence—has been by far the most stimulating hop in our coast-to-coast grass-hoppering.

Reminiscent Of Real France

To come suddenly around a bend and see ahead of you the high white sulk of a freighter steaming up-river past squat lighthouses, to look down in a rolling green valley at villages so reminiscent of the real France with silver spires standing in thick foliage, to see so much activity along the borders of the road, after thousands of miles of an apparently empty land—all this (and a suddenly bilingual car radio) is a travellers' tonic.

You lightly ponder the age-old dilemma of "French" versus "English" Canada and on the evidence of mood alone favor history with a happy nod. Unity, heil. Vive la difference!

We had a late start from Ottawa, perhaps because we felt a reluctance about leaving. So city of my acquaintance, except possibly Paris, reacts as girlishly to a crisp, early autumn day as the capital and, rolling past the Parliament buildings, we felt bound to pause for a last lingering look.

Then across the bridge and through the red brick town of Hull (no longer the Casbah of Ottawa since Ontario introduced its cocktail bars) and then we were truly in Quebec.

Half Populace Being Married

It was Saturday and it seemed that half of French Canada was being married. In our first hundred miles we passed a dozen wedding parties, the cars bedecked with white ribbons and with heavy hands on their klaxons.

In many cases they were disobeying the signs and definitely "stationnez sur le pavage," toasting the bride or groom in beer from green bottles and waving gaily at the passers-by.

For us it was a delight to see so much animation and vitality along the way.

On we rolled through the tall corn fields, past the white crosses standing on the shoulders of the road, swinging north into the furry green foothills of the Laurentians, then down by the river where a half dozen cars stood up to their running boards in the St. Lawrence, like cattle, while their owners washed them, now climbing through the narrow streets of a town.

Close-Up Of Home Lives

These towns are a constant delight, since the highway narrows through them, as it must and the traveller gets a close-up of people living as he does nowhere else in Canada.

The low, open porches of ancient, orderly houses are like orchestra seats virtually overhanging the pavement and the driver passes through rows of spectators answering stare for curious stare answering stare for curious stare as the car squirts out the other side into open country again.

In such a dash you come no nearer to getting a real feeling for French Canada than you would in an aircraft, but it will leave an affection that is the basis of friendship.

We're parked tonight at Ste. Foy, just a couple of miles outside of Quebec and looking across a long valley in which the lights of five small towns are twinkling.

In the Garden Of my Aunt

It was dark when we arrived and the proprietor of the auto camp we selected spoke about as much English as we speak of his language. I could tell the fellow I was feeling very well in the garden of my aunt, but when it came to a discussion about finding a place for the trailer we had nothing between us but good-will.

After much hilarious talk and sign language he got us down on a small ledge of grass overhanging the valley, but with absolutely no way of ever getting out short of turning the caravan about by hand. Still it is so pleasant to be here and to know that the wonders of Quebec are waiting to be explored I will cross that bridge when we come to it.

Ah, Quebec! Ah, biere et vin! Ce'st la vie!

That Mail Stack After Holidays

I don't know whether I can call my summer activities a holiday or not. It always takes me a week or so to get back into the groove or rut or whatever you want to call the autumn routine of work.

Then, too, my desk is always piled up. Here for instance are marked copies of several articles in Communist papers attacking me for advocating Canadian participation in the UN resistance to the aggression by North Korea.

There is a marked letter to the editor of The Vancouver Sun from a lady attacking me for precisely the opposite. Obviously, she either can't read or is so eager to take a whack at me that she first misquotes me as saying exactly the opposite of what I did say, then lashes out on the basis of her own fabrications.

One lady sends me the second draft of the manuscript of a novel she has written.

Other Items In The Mail

There is an invitation to attend the premiere performance of the Cowichan Indian operetta "Tzinquaw," and an inquiry from an important women's organization which wants to sponsor the first performance of same on the Canadian mainland.

There is a fine poem from a friend of Swedish origin, Calle Erickson. It is called Farm Boy's True Love, but as it has nine verses it is too long to publish in full. It's about a homesick man in the city who yearns to go back.

Where the air is fragrant with perfume
Of the soil, and the wheat stand high,
O God, if I stay in the city
I will wilt away and die. . . .
O boy, to sit on a gangplow
And look at the cloud on high,
And dream of my own little sweetheart
And our love that will never die.

Mr. Erickson is no alarmist but he points out that in event of war the destruction of a few bridges over the Fraser would tie this part of Canada in knots.

He favors the immediate construction of a tunnel under the Fraser, and so do I.

I think there is a lot of bunk talked about protection against the atomic bomb. What is going to protect us against atomic dust or against germ killers that can be carried in bottles?

Nevertheless it does seem to me ordinary prudence, or horse-sense to guard against the obvious and worst dangers. Surely cities like Vancouver should get busy and start on underground railways so constructed as also to serve as bomb shelters in time of war.

Apart altogether from their possible value in wartime, as in London and Moscow in Hitler's war, we will have to build them someday. Why not now?

I see from the India Information office says the New Delhi Physical Laboratory is making a new kind of super-accurate clock. It will operate by measuring the oscillation of molecules of ammonia. These oscillations are said to be free from variation due to heat, altitude or humidity.

Another item says that a scientific body will systematically investigate astrology and attempt to separate the truth from the falsity in its claims.

Nehru's candidate for the presidency of the Indian Congress party has been beaten. Most observers think this will mean a more conservative and nationalistic trend in Indian policies.

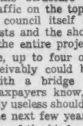

PITCHING HORSESHOES

By Billy Rose

That's How He Happened To Become a Panhandler

A friend of mine who lives in Greenwich Village swears he heard a moocher deliver the following spiel to a lady on West 8th Street:

"You ask, Madam, how a man with a Harvard accent "got to be a bum." Well, you've given me a civil dime and that entitles you to a civil answer: The fact of the matter is that I speak with a Harvard accent for the best of reasons—I went to Harvard.

Billy Rose

"In my third year at college, I decided I wanted to be a playwright, and shortly after I graduated cum laude, I finished my first play. And it as a great moment for me, some months later, when I stood in the wings of a Broadway theatre and watched the opening performance.

"Next morning, the critics reported that the play had its entertaining moments, but was a bit on the reminiscent side. The first act reminded Atkinson of Clifford Odets; the second, according to Chapman, smacked of Bill Saroyan, and the third, in Moorehouse's opinion, was a steal from Eugene O'Neill.

Then He Tried Writing Music

"Well, nobody likes to be accused of pilfering the brains of his betters, and so I gave up the theatre and tackled music. I rented a piano, enrolled at Juilliard, and after three years of hard work succeeded in having my first symphony performed by the Philharmonic at Carnegie Hall.

"The critics unanimously pronounced it a good symphony, a very good one, in fact—but reminiscent. Olin Downs pointed out there was a bit of Sibelius in my main theme, and Virgil Thomson, always the perfectionist, said he was intrigued by the curious blend of Wagner and Debussy in the second movement.

"I, of course, still had my heart set on expressing my own individuality, and so I abandoned music and turned to oil painting. I went to the Art Students League, sketched at Provincetown for several summers, and after completing over a hundred canvases I was fortunate enough to get myself a one-man show at a 57th street gallery.

"It was the same old story: The art critics went out of their way to be kind, but once again I was Joe Reminiscent. My landscapes, it seemed, reminded them of Corot, the coloration of my still lifes was too Matisse-ish, and as for my scenes at Coney Island, one writer opined that Reginald Marsh wouldn't be out of line if he instituted suit.

Then He Tried Cab Driving

"Well, Madam, I had to face up to facts. It was obvious that the arts would never bring out the Real Me, and so after brooding about it I decided to follow the calling which produces more of my good individualists than any other—cab driving.

"Again I went through the necessary apprenticeship. A garage mechanic in my neighborhood taught me how to manoeuvre in traffic, I studied the street maps of all five boroughs, and finally, through a political connection, I was granted a licence by the Hack Bureau.

"The very first day, however, I hadn't been out of the garage more than 20 minutes when a motorcycle cop blew his whistle and pulled alongside. As he wrote out a ticket he explained I had been speeding like Barney Oldfield, rounding corners like Floyd Davis, and burning oil like Sir Malcolm Campbell.

"Well, I was so annoyed with myself that I got out of the cab and left it in the middle of the street.

"Since I was reminiscent, even as a cab driver, I made up my mind right then and there that the only way I could ever find myself was to be myself. And that, Madam, is how I happened to become a bum."

Church, State Battle In Russian Vote

A Church vs. State battle is being fought in the Russian zone of Germany where the Communists are trying to wipe out Roman Catholics and Protestants alike.

Although the battle is being fought just as relentlessly as in Russia's other satellites, the spectacular blow-up as the sentencing of Hungary's Joseph Cardinal Mindzenty and the palace imprisonment of Archbishop Joseph Beran of Czechoslovakia—are lacking.

Instead, the Communists are trying to undermine the two main churches, Catholic and Protestant, in much the same way as the Nazis used to:

1. Forcing the people to accept materialism as the exclusive state doctrine.

2. "Educating" schoolchildren in an anti-Christian doctrine.

3. Driving people, particularly the young, into mass movements where they are cut off from religious influence.

4. Confining religious life to services within the walls of the churches.

5. Preventing the churches from publishing freely their own periodicals and from receiving similar periodicals from outside East Germany.

Homes Raided Occasionally

Occasionally the homes of clergymen are raided, as happened on April 25 after Protestant and Catholic condemnations of atheistic Communism had been read out at church services. The police were looking for copies of these statements, which they confiscated.

The main target of attack are the Catholics and Evangelicals. Their spokesmen are Cardinal Konrad von Preysing and Dr. Otto Dibelius, respective bishops of Berlin, and both back Rome even if they are 70 years old. They have faced persecution before.

East-German politicians are trying to crush the power of the church by isolating the leadership and splitting the rank and file. Thus far they have had little success, though a highly-placed spokesman of the Evangelical Church admitted recently that "about 80 renegade parsons" have told the East-German government they are willing to cooperate with the new "democracy."

The Church has attempted disciplinary action against these clergymen. But it has always been foiled by the government, which has announced it will protect, maintain in office and pay "from funds diverted from state subsidies" all "progressive" clergymen persecuted for their views.

This group of pro-Communist clergy is seen here as the nucleus of a state-controlled organization with which the government hopes finally to shatter the authority of the Catholic and Protestant churches.

Free Oil, Coal Trade Advocated

U.S. Chamber of Commerce Official Suggests Solution

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 13—(CP)—Suggestions for the virtually-free movement of oil and coal across the borders of Canada and the United States were made today by Richard L. Bowditch of Boston, vice-president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in an address to the Canadian chamber.

In brief, he hoped that Alberta oil will be allowed to move into the United States without tariff restrictions.

He suggested, in effect, that American coal move into Central Canada without protection from Nova Scotia coal, and that Nova Scotia coal move into New England.

Rapid development of Alberta's oil fields, he said, are contingent on its ability to compete with other continental and foreign oil fields.

"One of the major markets for Alberta oil would appear to be the Northwestern United States. There are oil and coal producers in the States now seeking enactment of a tariff which would in effect prohibit importations of oil from all foreign fields."

CANADA, TOO

"While the prime target is South American, the legislation would affect Canada as well. Not only would such a tariff impose a heavy handicap on the natural development of Alberta fields, it might mean a dangerous overload on producers in both countries in time of emergency.

"Should the petroleum output of the near east be lost to Britain, then certainly she would be forced to draw heavily in South America. This in turn would cut off South American oil at present reaching both the States and Canada, place added burden on North American producers, and might lead to a serious depletion of our joint reserves.

"It is my own conviction that Canada must be allowed to export oil products to the United States without having to surmount tariff barrier. The only components of U.S.-Canadian oil competition should be the cost of production and distribution on such a basis. I am sure Alberta fields can be opened and operated to your own great benefit, and ours as well."

Steel, said Mr. Bowditch, is the main spring of both peace and war, and the heart of the American steel industry, the Mesabi iron range, is becoming depleted.

SERIOUS SHIFT

"The forced migration of major steel producers to the Atlantic basin—to enable them profitably to use the newly-discovered ore deposits in Quebec and Labrador, Venezuela and northwestern Africa —now seems inevitable, and the repercussions of these migrations will be serious indeed."

"Now we, too, have certain reserves of raw materials. In the United States are vast deposits of all kinds of coal—not only for fuel but as a prime ingredient of hundreds of manufactured products ranging from steel to aspirin.

"Canada also mines coal, but its output is relatively limited. From mines in the extreme east—principally Nova Scotia—Maritime coal must be shipped inland to Western Quebec and Eastern Ontario.

"To broaden the market for Maritime coal, Canada has placed a tariff on coal imports. This together with indirect railroad subsidy enables Nova Scotia coal to compete with United States coal as far west as Georgian Bay points in Ontario.

NATURAL MARKETS

"Some of us believe that as Canadian oil should be allowed to find its tariff-free market in the States, so should our coal be permitted to move tax-free across the border to its natural market in Canada.

"In turn, we suggest that Nova Scotia coal be priced to permit entry to New England, a great coal-consuming area of nearly 10,000,000 persons.

"Such arrangements would make feasible all-year mining of Maritime Canadian coal, all-year market keeping through ice-free ports, the abolition of indirect subsidy by the Canadian government, and a shortening up of the present necessary long and not-too-lucrative car-haul by Canadian railroads.

"Certainly here is an opportunity for both our countries to benefit—and I believe the reciprocal program outlined can be applied successfully to other raw materials and industrial products."

Two-Day Ship Strike Ended In Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—(CP)—A two-day strike of 100 crew members of the 20,000-ton Panamanian registry liner Canberra was settled "amicably" late last night, a company official said, and the vessel is scheduled to leave at dawn today.

More than 130 passengers aboard the ship were delayed on their voyage to Cherbourg and Southampton Tuesday morning when the crew refused to obey orders to cast off. They struck Monday afternoon for higher wages.

Main grievance was that Greek crew members were being paid more than Spanish, Italian and French.

Cornet Woman Famed In Wars Dies In Calgary

CALGARY, Sept. 13. — (CP) — "The woman with the cornet," Mrs. George McElroy, 81, died in hospital last night following a brief illness.

The prominent Calgary woman was known to thousands of servicemen during the First Great War by her impromptu concerts and affectionate greetings she gave at the CPR station when the troop trains arrived or passed through the city.

In 1935, during the Silver Jubilee celebrations for King George and Queen Mary, she was presented with a medal for her work.

Despite her advancing years, Mrs. McElroy occasionally played her cornet for the boys returning from World War Two.

Solon Low Proposes Checks On Living Costs

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(CP)—A four-point program to bring down the soaring cost of living was placed before the Commons yesterday by Solon Low, Social C[illegible] leader, as the debate developing to get debate moved under way.

He held that living costs could be lowered if the government would d these things:

1. Install a "compensated price discount mechanism"—a form of subsidies—on those products most frequently bought in day-to-day living.

2. Rectify faults in the country's trade policies by bringing trade closer into balance.

3. Investigate the country's tax structure to determine what effect taxes have on goods and prices.

4. Taxes which had an inflationary effect should be abolished.

4. Remove impediments to production and keep production at the highest possible rate.

He also suggested the appointment of commissions to determine Canada's potential productive capacity and to look into the possibility of further government economies.

Miner's Son of N.S. Elected Moderator of United Church

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—(CP)—A Cape Breton coal miner's son, who says he comes from good Scot-Presbyterian stock, is the new moderator of the United Church of Canada.

Dr. Clarence M. Nicholson, principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, won election to the church's highest post at opening sessions last night of the general council's 10-day meeting.

At 46 one of the youngest men ever elected to office, Dr. Nicholson received 219 of the 336 votes cast in a second ballot. He succeeds Rev. Willard Brewing of Toronto, who had been moderator since 1948.

Four other leading clergymen in the church were nominated. They were Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, council secretary from Toronto; Rev. Douglas H. Telford, Vancouver; Rev. G. D. Kilpatrick, Montreal, and Rev. John M. Mutch, Hamilton.

The tall, new moderator was born in the shadow of a colliery in the little town of Dominion, N.S. He was educated in Cape Breton schools, and prior to entering Dalhousie University he had worked two years in the coal-fields for his tuition fees.

At Dalhousie, he spent his summers doing mission work for United Church.

MARRIED MAN

Dr. Nicholson became principal of Pine Hill Divinity College, oldest of the eight United Church Training Schools, more than four years ago. Previously he held pastorates at four churches in Nova Scotia.

He is married and has two sons, aged 12 and nine.

In 1945 he went to Europe as United Church delegate to major church conferences. He attended the modern churchmen's conference of the alliance of reformed churches holding the Presbyterian system, and the first meeting of the then newly-formed World Council of Churches.

Following his election, Dr. Nicholson told reporters he feels the issue of materialism, secular as well as Communist, to be the great church problem in the immediate future.

He had no step-by-step program mapped out for his two-year period of office, but he saw in the moderatorship an opportunity to provide inspirational leadership.

$1 Million Baby Market Is Charged

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Tennessee is investigating reports of a $1,000,000 baby market operating in Memphis and extending to New York and Hollywood.

The investigation was ordered by Governor Gordon Browning following reports by agents of the state welfare department on preliminary investigations in Tennessee and California.

State welfare commissioner J. O. McMahan said information now available indicates that more than 1,000 babies were involved and that foster parents have paid as much as $750 for them. Some babies placed by the agency have been adopted by Hollywood celebrities.

McMahan said his information indicates that more than 90 per cent of the babies have been "exported" to California and New York.

The investigation involves the Shelby county (Memphis) division of the Tennessee Children's Home, a semi-private agency suported in part by the state.

Aussie Ducks Meeting Yank Memoir Writer

MELBOURNE, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The chief of Australia's general staff yesterday ducked a meeting with Gen. George C. Kenney of the United States Air Force and avoided a dinner in his honor last night.

His office said the Australian officer, Lt.-Gen. S. F. Rowell, was officially "out of town."

Kenney, a native of Yarmouth, N.S., criticized Rowell in published memoirs, which said Rowell's attitude on the New Guinea campaign was "defeatist."

Arriving here Monday for a meeting with service chiefs, Kenney had said he would go out of his way to meet Rowell. Kenney added: "I liked Rowell in wartime, despite my criticisms, and I hope I'm still his friend."

GREAT SONG, DANCE ACT ENDS BY DEATH

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Death yesterday broke up one of the great song and dance acts of the roaring 1920's.

Lou Clayton, of Clayton, Jackson and Durante, died of cancer of the pancreas. The 65-year-old soft-shoe dancer had been ill a year.

It also marked the end of a friendship that has become a legend in show business. Jimmy Durante was at the bedside when the end came and Eddie Jackson was hurrying there. But he came moments too late.

Clayton was one of vaudeville's top dancers when he teamed with Durante and Jackson in 1923. The boisterous act clicked in the top speakeasies and night clubs during the Texas Guinan-Sophie Tucker era.

The act broke up in the early 1930's but not the team.

Durante came to Hollywood to become a comedy star in the early talkies and later on radio. Clayton took over as Durante's business manager and Jackson continued as Jimmy's straight man for personal appearances and benefits.

PYLTONE for PILES
Modern medical science knows the internal cause must first be removed. The new PYLTONE TREATMENT is the result. It is giving amazing results everywhere, simply because it goes directly to the inside cause of piles. (A liquid taken by mouth), it acts quickly on delicate internal tissue and swellings, restoring it to a healthy normal state. That's the difference with the new PYLTONE TREATMENT. You get results you expect with the first bottle or price refunded at once. With this new Treatment, pile torture is a thing of the past. $1.25 at all druggists or have him order for you.

Legion to Accept 2nd War Draftees

Those Who Served In War Theatres To Be Admitted

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—(CP)—The Canadian Legion has opened its ranks—although only after tempestuous debate—to conscripted soldiers of the Second World War who served in war theatres.

Delegates to the Dominion convention here debated the controversial change in the Legion constitution for 90 stormy minutes yesterday before it was approved 764 to 428 in a secret ballot.

Legionnaires who spoke strongly in favor of the move included Hon. C. Rhodes Smith, Manitoba's attorney-general and chairman of the Legion's constitution and laws committee, and H. A. Newmark of Montreal, spokesman for the Quebec command.

PLANNED FOR UNITY

Mr. Smith, who introduced the motion, said the move was designed to unite all those who bore arms in the service of Canada. Men conscripted in the First World War were Legion members and in other commonwealth countries men conscripted for service were admitted to Legion membership.

He said men conscripted under the National Resources Mobilization Act who refused to change their status but served in action as conscripts were "just as much volunteers" as those servicemen who waited until they knew they were going overseas and then volunteered.

Mr. Newmark charged that delegates opposing the move were being inconsistent. Monday they had urged the government to implement conscription.

"IGNORANT OF LAW"

He claimed NRMA men had "exhibited appalling ignorance of what the law required" and were provided with little opportunity to get this information.

If they had understood they would have been prepared to do their duty," he said.

Those who went overseas and saw action were "not less resolute" in facing the enemy than volunteers.

T. Poolton of Kapuskasing, Ont., said he did not want "men who lay around Canada for 3½ years admitted to the Legion."

Ray Mann of Brantford, Ont., said the Legion "will invite disintegration by accepting to membership men who dishonored their country by failing to offer the same sacrifice as those now buried in foreign soil."

KOREANS PLAY JAZZ BY EAR

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Sept. 13—(UP)—A South Korean army band playing American jazz 'by ear," is part of the first United Nations road shows to visit front line troops.

The 26 musicians got their supply of music by copying what they heard on American radio broadcasts.

Forces Said 'Inadequate'

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 13. — (Reuters) — United States forces in west Germany are "totally inadequate" for the tasks they may have to face, Gen. Mark Clark, commander of all American field forces, said here last night.

He said while American and Allied troops now taking part in large-scale battle manoeuvres in Germany were showing "superior combat readiness," it was evident there were not nearly enough men available.

"Everything possible will be done to speed reinforcements here," he said.

Clark spoke at the end of the second day of large-scale manoeuvres known as "Exercise Rainbow."

Former German General Chosen

BONN, Germany, Sept. 13.—(AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer yesterday named a former German general, Count Gerhard von Schwerin, as his advisor on security.

The 51-year-old count held a wartime command in Russia.

He was the architect of Adenauer's plan to raise an armed federal police force, and may head the force if it is authorized by the three Western foreign ministers in New York.

University Ousts Nine Professors

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—(AP) Nine professors who failed to take any action on the University of California Board of Regents' Loyalty Oath ultimatum are "no longer employes of the university," a board spokesman said yesterday. The spokesman said the nine also have forefited their right to a year's service pay, which they would have received had they resigned.

Scientist Given 4 Years in Jail For Perjury

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Dr. Sidney Weinbaum, 52, Russian-born scientist once connected with a top-secret military project, yesterday was sentenced to four years in prison for perjury.

A jury convicted him last week of lying when he told a U.S. army industrial employment review board that he had never been a member of a Communist party branch at California Institute of Technology.

Dr. Weinbaum had been a research engineer on a government-sponsored jet propulsion project but was removed last year.

Comes Near Camp Before Pulling Carbine Trigger

BY STANLEY BURKE

FROG LAKE, Sept. 13. — Francis Moocheweines, giant Indian fugitive, stood on a grassy hill overlooking the encampment of his people. He looked down on the little cluster of tents for the last time—then turned his 30-30 carbine on himself and pulled the trigger.

The body was sighted yesterday by two Indian girls only 150 yards from the encampment, near the home of Frog Lake Indian agent C. R. Hunt, where the terrified tribesmen had gathered for safety.

Moocheweines had apparently returned to be near his band for the last time before joining the woman he loved—and killed—in the land of the Great Manitou.

Exact time of the suicide remains a mystery, RCMP headquarters here said today. Examination of the body is continuing.

The 42-year-old Indian had been hunted by an RCMP posse following the murder Thursday of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jimmy Moocheweines.

Fifteen constables, aided by a helicopter, two dogs, and Indian guides had scoured the reservation without finding trace of the killer. The search had mainly been conducted in outlying parts of the thick bush-country reserve where the big, tough, scar-faced woodsman was believed hiding out.

WITHIN 300 YARDS

The body was lying on a small grassy hill within 35 yards of the intersection of the two main roads on the reserve and 300 yards of the Hunt home, co-ordinating centre of search operations.

The Indians had noted several signs that Moocheweines might commit suicide, his sorrowing widow said yesterday.

When they parted for the last time, after going to the house of Chief John Horse to report the shooting, the murderer shook hands with his wife.

According to Indian tradition, this gesture would indicate he did not expect to return.

"He told the chief to make sure his property was shared between the members of the family," she said speaking through an interpreter.

Another sign was the red rag found on the bell of Moocheweines' horse Monday morning. The rag was torn from the shirt he was wearing and is believed to have been a sign that he was nearby and to look for him.

The story, pieced together from statements of close-mouthed Indians yesterday, confirmed the theory that the killing had resulted from a tragic case of "spurned love."

The Indians confirmed that all in the band feared burly, 200-pound Moocheweines—except his sister-in-law.

"Francis once kidnapped his sister-in-law and tried to take her away with him to a cabin, but she wouldn't have anything to do with him," said Indian Agent Hunt. "I think there were other similar occasions," he added.

In spite of strained relations between Moocheweines and his brother's wife, the two families were on friendly terms and always moved together over the reservation, the killer's wife said yesterday.

"She was my friend. I saw her every day," Mrs. Moocheweines said, referring to the dead woman. "When she was killed, I didn't know what had happened. I had not seen her all day and it was the longest she had ever been away," she said, speaking through an interpreter.

The wife of the hunted man said he had "gone with" his sister-in-law occasionally and that he was jealous of her.

BROTHER SORROWFUL

Jimmy Moocheweines, brother and inseparable companion of the killer, was found sitting in his tent yesterday with tear-filled eyes.

"We were friends," he said. "For years we always lived and hunted together. I can't understand how all this happened.

"It's all over now," he said, also speaking through an interpreter. "There is no use holding grudges. We will get along as well as we can."

Discovery of the body broke the tension which had gripped the 230 members of the Indian band since the shooting. Fearing the fugitive might have marked other members, they moved in from parts of the 80-square-mile reserve to camp at the home of the agent.

Last night they began breaking camp to return to their hunting grounds.

"It's a good thing Francis didn't decide to shoot some of the policemen," said Sam Faithful. "He was one of the best shots around here, and could have got them easy, hidden in the bushes."

No explanation was offered as to why the report of the suicide shot was not heard by nearby Indians.

Two years ago Moocheweines wounded his sister-in-law in the shoulder with a rifle bullet but was acquitted at an investigation.

"At the hearing she insisted it was accidental," said the Indian agent. "She was his best witness."

Federal Civil Servants Ask Cabinet for Raise

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(CP)—The Civil Service Federation of Canada, representing 60,000 of Canada's classified 108,000 federal government workers, today asked the cabinet for a general salary increase of 23.5 per cent.

Headed by Fred Whitehouse, president of the federation, some 20 delegates called on the cabinet.

An 800-word brief called for increases in the average salary of $360 a year. They sought the increases retroactively, but did not specify to what date.

Federal civil servants last got an increase in October, 1948. The federation sought further increases in a brief last "december, and finally was told by Finance Minister Abbott that circumstances since October, 1948, had not changed enough to warrant further increases.

PRICES UP MORE

At that time, the federation brief said, Mr. Abbott said it was fully expected that prices would level off and that if these circumstances were not fulfilled, "further consideration would have to be given."

Average salary of a civil servant in 1939, the brief said, was $1,056, since which time the cost-of-living index had risen 68.5 per cent. This meant civil servants then were getting the equivalent of $2,537 a year now.

The aerage salary for all classified civil servants in 1949-50, as shown in Bureau of Statistics reports, was only $2,184.

Little Giants Slay Wings

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Sept. 13. — (AP) — Choking off repeated Rochester rallies in the late innings, the underdog Jersey City Little Giants nipped the Red Wings 5-4 last night in the opener of their semi-final best-of-seven International league playoff series.

Lefthander Roger Bowman, who retired for a pinch-hitter after six innings with the score 3-2 against him, was credited with the victory. The Little Giants gave him and three relievers flawless fielding support. The Red Wings helped beat themselves with some weird defensive plays. Also three Red Wing runners were wiped out on the base paths, two of them at the plate, another trying to stretch a single.

The Jerseys beat Rochester's ace pitcher, righthander Tommy Poholsky. Poholsky served a two-run homer to Marv Blaylock in the sixth, cracking a scoreless tie. In the seventh a single and a walk were followed by Stan Jok's two-run triple that gave the fourth-place finishers the lead for keeps.

Brand New 'Boy Wonder' Washington Senator Star

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(UP)—Washington has a new "boy wonder" in 23-year-old Eddie Yost, a youngster the Yankees are all set to dicker for as soon as the season is through.

Every time the Yankees finish a series with the Senators, Casey Stengel enviously sighs, "Oh that Yost!"

Thwarted in their efforts to acquire Ray Scarborough or Eddie Robinson from Washington last year, the Yankees are expected to launch an all-out offensive to obtain Yost this winter.

How come all the sudden hullabaloo about Yost? Just sit back, relax and listen.

LOT OF WALKS

The quiet third baseman from South Ozone Park, N.Y., has become the most difficult man to pitch to in the majors. He has already coaxed 127 bases on balls—only 43 walks shy of Babe Ruth's all-time mark of 170—sports a respectable .298 batting average and is regarded a defensive genius.

Washington owner Clark Griffith, who has employed such infield marvels as Bucky Harris, Ossie Bluege, Buddy Myer and Cecil Travis, believes Yost will fit comfortably in that select company in less than two years.

"Eddie has come along as fast as any ballplayer I have ever seen," declared the Old Fox, "and I am certain he has a great future."

Yost, who never spent a day in the minors, is putting in his fifth season in the big leagues.

One of the least talkative players on the club, the stocky New Yorker goes about his baseball business with the same professional poise as a Joe DiMaggio or a Lou Boudreau. He has a limitless capacity for learning.

Bluege, probably the outstanding third sacker ever to play for Washington, says:

"I remember Yost when he broke in. He was always asking questions about his position and trying to better himself. He had a funny way of punishing himself. If he gummed up a play, he'd go out the next day and practice the same play over and over again until he had it down pat."

Yost, a thoroughly likeable lad, never will cop any medals for being the man most easy to interview. His replies have two distinctions: They are always courteous and invariably short.

He is equally busy summer and winter. During the off-season, he continues his schooling at New York University and this winter he plans to teach physical education.

Eddie, rated the top man in the circuit at charging bunts and throwing rival runners out, insists his chief aim is to improve.

"I would like to get better and better," he says, "and I would like to help Washington win a pennant."

Some players say that merely to go on record; Yost means it.

Manager Harris, the Senators' original "Boy Wonder," recently commented:

"That kid Yost is a sweetheart. He does everything he is told and what's more, he does it well."

Affable Eddie takes such praise in stride. No matter how "big" he becomes, Yost never will alter his hat-size.

GLACE BAY PACKS UP SENIOR HOCKEY

GLACE BAY, N.S., Sept. 13 — (CP) — Faced with paying off $17,000 in deficits piled up during the last two seasons, the Glace Bay Miners hockey club decided last night to drop out of the Cape Breton Senior Hockey league.

Miners have played second fiddle to Sydney Millionaires, Maritime champions for the last three years. North Sydney was the third team in the loop last season.

Rough Riders Set for Als

OTTAWA, Sept. 13. — (BUP) — The Big Four league Ottawa Rough Riders squad, bearing fewer splints and bandages and loads more confidence, sat back today and waited for the Montreal Alouettes to hit town Saturday.

"I think," opined coach Wally Masters, "that we'll take 'em like we should have in the first game of the season." The Rough Riders lost the Aug. 27 contest 14-7 and came off the field shot full of injuries.

Masters said his Capital outfit would be up to strength for the Saturday game with the exception of Halfback Ted McLarty, still nursing a shoulder injury aggravated in the first game of the season against the Hamilton Tiger-Cats. The Cats took that encounter 26-17 but Ottawa beat them on their own field last Saturday, 23 to 15.

Masters said his previous estimation of the Cats hadn't paled with the Ottawa victory. He still figured they were the team to beat in the Big Four this year.

His estimation of the Dominion champion Alouettes was about unchanged. He said it was pretty low.

"We should have beaten them by 20 points in that first game," he said.

CNR-Rosedale Series Not for Alberta Title

Edmonton CNR and Rosedale Midways are not playing for the Alberta junior baseball championship.

That was established yesterday when Scotty McDougall, business manager of the CNR nine, was informed by Alberta Amateur Baseball Association secretary Stan Burke that the winner of the Rosedale-Edmonton series must proceed into the provincial final against Medicine Hat.

CNR leads Rosedale 2-0 in a best-of-five round which concludes at Rosedale next weekend.

Earlier, it had been announced that the two clubs were playing for the provincial title which was won last year by Rosedale. However, AABA vice-president Jack Rosser of Lethbridge wired Burke yesterday to the effect that Medicine Hat was properly registered with him and thus able to contest the Alberta championship.

Why Medicine Hat registration cards were not forwarded to Burke is unexplained. But there is a suspicion here that Rosser fell down on the job.

CNR Wants $750 Guarantee

Should CNR win the Rosedale series, they will have a choice of a home-and-home round with the Hat or the playing of the final in the southern centre. McDougall indicated last night that he would prefer playing all games in Medicine Hat—for a guarantee of $750.

However, CNR manager Lou Hiatt would rather have the southern champions travel to Drumheller and play the winner of the north series there early next week.

Meanwhile, CNR is hard pressed for cash to be travelling around the country playing baseball games. And if they fail to receive a guarantee, according to McDougall, the freighimen may have to forfeit to Medicine Hat should they first sideline Rosedale.

The Edmonton team will leave the city Saturday morning and play an exhibition game with Drumheller the same evening. Balance of the Rosedale shindig is slated for that town on Sunday and Monday, if necessary.

Turk Broda Finding Beef Prices High

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—(BUP)—Like the housewives, Toronto Maple Leaf goaltender Turk Broda is going to find that the price of beef comes high this winter.

President Conn Smythe of the Leafs took a lesson from the labor unions and yesterday gave Broda a contract containing an escalator clause. If the Turk's weight goes above 190 lbs., his pay goes down, and vice versa.

Broda, who staged a successful and much-publicized "battle of the Bulge" last winter, was confident that he would check into training camp at St. Catharines this Sunday at a slim, for him, 190.

The Turk said he had been playing ball all summer and recently started workouts in a gym. For the benefit of photographers, he stripped to a pair of swimming trunks and sorted up on the scales like the Aga Khan getting his weight in jewels as a birthday gift. The dial stopped spinning at 194½ lbs.

Every payday until the end of the season, Broda will mount the scales while the bookkeepers figure out his paycheck. Extra beef will cost him an undisclosed number of dollars per pound.

If he keeps his waistline under control, the 36-year-old veteran is being counted on to give the Leafs plenty of defensive support in their quest for the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup.

The Turk claimed his slenderizing campaign was keeping half the rest of the team in shape. "Harry Watson, Max Smith, Gus Mortson, Jimmy Thomson and Johnny McCormack have been working out with me and I'll get them in shape with handball and setting-up exercises," he said.

MAPLE LEAFS DEFAULT GAME TO CANADIANS

Baltimore Tops Royals

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Russ Bauers pitched a three-hitter for Baltimore last night as the Orioles defeated Montreal 6-2 in the first game of the 1950 International league semi-final playoffs.

Baltimore got eight hits off the offerings of Turk Lown, Ronnie Lee and Tom Lasorda. Lown, the starter, was chased in the sixth and the loss was chalked against him.

The Orioles fashioned four runs in the sixth off three hits, a pair of walks and a hit batsman.

The game was played on a wet field and threat of rain held the crowd to 4,371.

Bailey Has "So Many Fans"

Morris Bailey, talented Eskimo end variously known as 'Mo', 'The Snatch', 'The Cigar' or 'Snake' (this is his back-home-in-Texas nickname), is quite a guy for his laughs.

Generally he works over someone else to bring on the guffaws. But likewise he's quick to fetch up a bellow clear from his li'l ol' pancreas, even if the rib's on himself.

In other words he's a go-unto-others sort of gagster.

Not many minutes after Eskimos had knocked Regina Roughriders loose from their stays at Clarke Stadium Monday night, the colorful Texan was up to his intest cigar in a newspaper 'interview'.

★ ★ ★ ★

Asking the questions (?) was Lindy Berry, Bailey's teammate and ace passer of the west.

★ ★ ★ ★

Frankly Mr. Berry failed to identify himself as to his connections with the Fourth Estate.

But he struck a pose, acting the part of a young, eager-beaver reporter, leered into the Bailey kisser (as close as he dared come to the cigar), and they played the following, staccato-like interview for laughs.

Question: What do you think of the pass defence of the other team?

Answer: Yes. (The cigar was shifting from side to side, the Bailey jaws were being worked overtime).

Question: Did you find their pass defence hard to figure out?

Answer: Huh?

★ ★ ★ ★

Question: Where do you think this club'll finish?

Answer: You bet.

★ ★ ★ ★

Question: How about that last pass, that touchdown pass. Was that one of the toughest you ever caught?

Answer: Every team in this Conference is tough.

There was more of same until Bailey declared the 'interview' at an end because "the photographers want a chance at me." Scribbler Berry offered profuse thanks, bowed low, and backed away.

And if Berry seemed to get a bang out of the horse play, star end Bailey was even more caught up by the occasion.

★ ★ ★ ★

Recently gagster Bailey tangled with musicman Earl Valiquette, over at the Garneau frat house where both are shacked-up, along with a half dozen more of their teammates.

Valiquette, shoes and socks tossed carelessly aside for purposes of comfort, had been snoozing on the chesterfield. He awakened finally because someone was shaking him by a shoulder.

"You're wanted on the phone. It's important," he was informed.

The big fellow, not fully awake, as might be expected, swung his feet off the chesterfield to get up. Next thing he knew he was lying in a heap on the floor and a lot of guys who suddenly had found urgent need to be in the living room, were rolling in the aisles.

Once back on his pins Valiquette quickly put the blame on—you guessed it—Mo' Bailey. (Aside to the reader: Bailey was 'innocent'. All he did was think up the stunt. The prankster who actually fastened the Valiquette toes was Jim Quandamatteo.

Incidentally snappy-dresser Quandamatteo (he looks like something out of 'Sport' when he gets on his glad rags) got some of his own back at work the other day.

★ ★ ★ ★

When he came to pick up his dinner-pail from its accustomed place it has been carefully and expertly nailed to a bench by a fellow-toiler, who prefers, naturally, to remain anonymous.

★ ★ ★ ★

Quandamatteo's pals swear he'd a lugged that bench home, pail and all, only there was a stiff workout billed for that night and he wanted to save his strength.

Easter Socks Yankee Egg

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(CP)—With two men out in the ninth, Luke Easter belted a three-run, ninth-inning homer last night to enable Cleveland Indians to beat New York Yankees 6-7. The defeat skewed the Yankees into second place in the American league, one half game behind Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers earlier in the day eked out a 3-2 decision over Washington Senators.

The Yankees entered the ninth inning leading 7-4. Allie Reynolds, apparently riding to his 14th victory, got the first man out, then walked two men. Then Tom Ferrick, the Yank's ace fireman, took over.

Bob Kennedy doubled, scoring Joe Gordon and moving Thurman Tucker to third. Larry Doby fanned for the second out. Then Easter socked his second homer of the evening over the right field fence to end the game.

At Chicago, the third-place Boston Red Sox opened their fourth western swing with a 2-1 victory over the White Sox before 9,119 persons. Mel Parnell pitched a five-hitter to gain his 16th decision in besting Bill Wright in a tight pitchers' duel.

Al Widmar hurled St. Louis Browns to a three-hit 6-0 shutout over the last-place Philadelphia Athletics, extending the Brownies winning streak to six games.

In a night National game at Philadelphia, young Robin Roberts won a brilliant 1-0 pitching duel from Max Lanier and St. Louis Cardinals to annex his 13th victory of the year and preserve Philadelphia Phillies' 6½-game league lead.

The margin of victory was Andy Seminick's booming fifth-inning home run before 20,864 fans.

At Boston, rookie Ransom Jackson, who rejoined Chicago Cubs in the morning, clouted a two-run homer in the eighth inning as the Braves suffered a 5-1 setback before a chilled 3,202 crowd.

It was the smallest night-game gathering in Boston's major league history. The victory was the Cubs' first triumph in their last five starts and their second in 13 games.

In the Detroit-Washington game, the Senators made it a fight all the way as they peeked at a three-run lead which the Tigers built in the early innings.

Senator starting pitcher Gene Bearden was stingy with his base hits but seven walks proved costly. He was charged with his eighth loss.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout was tagged for eight hits but some stout-hearted defence work enabled him to flagger to his 13th victory.

The teams traded home runs, Vic Wertz hitting No. 27 for Detroit with Ed Stewart getting No. 4 for the Senators.

Two day games were played in the National league. At Brooklyn, Jewell Blackwell of Cincinnati Reds held the Brooks to one hit—a single by Gene Hermanski—but threw his own game away in a wild eighth inning in which the home team scored twice without hitting the ball out of the infield to win 3-1.

Blackie opened the fateful eighth by hitting catcher Bruce Edwards in the back with a pitched ball, and before it ended he had thrown wildly past first, walked the pinch pitcher, Carl Erskine, and uncorked a wild pitch.

At one point in the weird frame, Billy Cox of the Dodgers was trapped in a rundown between third and home, but made it safely back to the far corner, only to find Erskine perched there. Erskine was an automatic out, but Cox scored later on an infield out. Blackwell's wild pitch let Gil Hodges score the other unearned run of the inning.

Sheldon Jones turned in a six-hit pitching job as New York Giants opened their final home stand against the National League's western clubs with a 3-0 victory over the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Phillies were the only major league club to show a gate gain in April and May of this season.

ST. LOUIS — Fifty-nine minor baseball leagues were in operation last year obtaining the best players available.

And you can bet your last sou that Edmonton will have a good squad—if they get most of the players they want.

FEMALE PUGS BANNED IN VIRGINA

DETROIT, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Ever hear of women boxing? Well they did in West Virginia and want no more.

At the request of the West Virginia Athletic Commission, the National Boxing Association yesterday recommended a ban on women boxing.

Patrick J. Beacom of the West Virginia board framed the resolution which was passed.

One of the points raised by Beacom was that "such bouts . . . may cause such physical harm to the women boxers as to do great injury to the already sick boxing game."

BUT RIMSTAD OPTIMISTIC

Edmonton Lacks WCJHL Franchise

By Ernie Fedoruk

Unless a franchise comes through very soon for an Edmonton entry in the Western Canada Junior Hockey league, coach Morey Rimstad and his as-yet-unnamed manager are going to have a very difficult time to round up top-notch performers.

All good Junior pucksters will want to play this year—and they are not going to hang around to sign with a club which, as yet, doesn't exist.

That's the big problem confronting Rimstad and sponsor Jim Christiansen!

Rimstad believes Edmonton will receive a franchise, despite the stalling of the teams in the WCJHL.

The Saskatchewan entries in the WCJHL are especially against Edmonton coming into the west's top junior loop. An official of the Regina Pats' hockey club recently "doubted very much" that this city will be granted a franchise.

Rimstad is optimistic, however. "I'm pretty sure we're going to be in," he said last night.

But getting that franchise isn't his greatest worry. It's the obtaining of players that worries the former Flyer star.

He qualified that he has spoken to several prospects. "But what are you going to sign them for?" he queried.

As soon as the franchise comes through, Rimstad will be hard at work obtaining the best players available.

AUTUMN AIR SLOWS DOWN LIVELY BALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(UP)—National League pitchers finally seem to have discovered the antidote for the lively ball—the autumn air.

Since Sept. 1, the losing team has been shut out or held to only one run in more than 40 per cent of the games played in the N.L. The exact figures are as follows: 49 games played, 11 shutouts and nine one-run games.

The New York Giants' pitching staff leads in the Sept. shutout race with four, two by Sal Maglie and one each by Jim Hearn and Sheldon Jones. Other N.L. shutout pitchers this month were Don Newcombe (2), and Curt Simmons, Robin Roberts and Bill MacDonald, one each.

Ref Hart Plays Part In Rasslin' Scenario

Stu Hart is still as popular as ever—even after his assignment as referee for the main event of the weekly rasslin' card at the Stock Pavilion last night.

Hart assisted husky Don Kindred in gaining a rematch victory over Montreal guitarist Bob Lortie. Kindred and Lortie each had a fall before the Negro flash from New York was able to pin Robert for the clincher.

Action in other bouts saw Al Bey use his immense strength to conquer Ray Marshall in the opener, Ivan Kamaroff bulled his way to an unpopular triumph over Steve Gob in the semi-windup, while Stan Dusek and Tony Cosenza battled to a draw in a special event.

Kindred copped the opener at 13:30, using a reverse leg lock and body press.

Lortie gained the equalizer after about 11 minutes with a back neck breaker, the villain using almost every illegal tactic in the script.

Lortie caused his own downfall by heaving official Hart out of the ring. Hart, none too pleased with that bit of action, barged back and threw several blows about Lortie's head and shoulders.

Kindred seized the opportunity to pin his adversary for the third and final fall. Enraged, Lortie turned on the referee, ripping his shirt, but declining to joust with him.

Hart, amidst a roar of approval from 1,000 fans, stalked off in the direction of the dressing rooms.

UNCLE SAM BECKONS TIGER-CAT ACE

HAMILTON, Sept. 13.—(CP) — Bill Gregus, 22-year-old halfback with Hamilton's powerful Tiger-Cat football club, has received his draft notice from the United States army. Officials of the Big Four club said he left late yesterday for Toledo, O., for a medical test.

Coach Carl Voyles said it would be "a big loss" if Gregus was drafted. "They sometimes give them 90 days before they have to go," he said, "it's almost certain he will play with us this Saturday."

Tiger-Cats, tied in first place in the Big Four with Toronto Argonauts, will meet Argos in Toronto Saturday.

CINCINNATI— John Corriden of the White Sox played third base for Detroit in 1912. He was sold to the Cincinnati club, but was traded off to the Cubs before he ever played a game for the Reds.

LaMotta 9 to 5 Favorite To Defeat Dauthuille

By Jack Hand

DETROIT, Sept. 13—(AP)—Squat Jake LaMotta, scenting a big-money series with Sugar Ray Robinson, is a solid favorite to whip Laurent Dauthuille of France tonight in his second world middleweight title defence.

Although the town is basel[illegible]dafty with the Tigers at home, international Boxing Club officials expect a crowd of 13,000 and receipts of some $100,000 for the indoor fight at the Olympia. Approximately $50,000 is in the till.

Ring time for the 15-round battle that will not be carried on radio or television is 11 p.m. EDT. Jake gets 45 per cent, Dauthuille 15 per cent. LaMotta is a 9-to-5 favorite.

MUST MEET SUGAR RAY

The way was cleared yesterday by the National Boxing Association for LaMotta or Dauthuille to meet Robinson in February. Even a LaMotta-Dauthuille rematch, if the Frenchman wins, will be permitted if promise that the rematch winner will tackle Sugar Ray before March 15.

With his title at stake, LaMotta is a cagy, rugged warrior. You can throw out his over-the-weight fights. They don't mean much, including his loss to Dauthuille at Montreal in 1949. Jake hadn't the title then. This is the real thing.

Nobody knows too much about Dauthuille but they like what they see in the gym. The 26-year-old Frenchman, command, respect for his right hand punching power that bursts four stri[illegible] ockout in 1950, Charley Zivic, Six Bellou and Turo Portugues were the victims. He stopped Turo twice in Montreal.

In Montreal, where he is an idol, favourite to Kid Gavilan, a welterweight. His handi said he was off form that night because he had just lost to Gavilan. Jake, a veteran of 46 fights he has lost eight and fought three draws.

WHO'S BIGGER ONE

Still he does hold that 10-round decision o[illegible] LaMotta, Feb. 21, 1947. That w[illegible] a few months before Jake was named a surprise opponent for the late Marcel Cerdan in a match that brought him the crown. There seems to be no doubt that Dauthuille deserved the victory over Jake in Can[illegible]a for he opened severe eye cuts around LaMotta's eyes that required several stitches. And he did knock out Bellolse, always a rugged campaigner.

Although Jake's record is spotty, he has a knack for winning the big ones. He appears to be in shape for this one and expects to make the 160-pound limit with some to spare. Dauthuille will weigh 158½.

Japs Ban Cycle Racing

TOKYO, Sept. 13—(Reuters)—The Japanese government yesterday decided to ban cycle racing, a sport which has caused nearly 80 serious riots since it was introduced into Japan only a year ago.

Immediate cause of the ban was last week's riot at Naruo Race track, near Kobe. Police shot and killed one spectator and riotors severely injured a policeman and three girl ticket sellers when fans who thought a race had been fixed burned the ticket window.

The Stork Club

An open letter to the stork:

Dear Stork:

How is your stock of baby girls holding out?

Would like you to accept this order for delivery in about three weeks time: One little girl, about seven pounds, (will take smaller if you are out of this size); something in blue eyes with golden hair, but will accept brunet if you are out of blonds at the moment.

★ ★ ★ ★

Please do not send a boy as they are no end of trouble after they start imitating their fathers. Besides we already have a boy in the same shade.

Am not in a financial position to double my order at this time. The name is DeLong not Dionne.

★ ★ ★ ★

I am going to name the baby Brenda, so do not give this name to anybody else in the meantime.

Reason I asked about your stock of baby girls is because everybody seems to be getting baby girls the last month or two. Hope you didn't give the last girl to my boss, even if he did have the order in earlier.

★ ★ ★ ★

PS. Please bring a family allowance application blank when you come as I want Brenda to get on the payroll as soon as possible. It looks like a hard winter.

★ ★ ★ ★

Do I ever get checked up on in a hurry. I handed an orchid yesterday to a cab driver who stopped traffic to let a wheel chair cripple cross the street. I was informed it was a Checker Cab driver who performed this act of kind consideration.

★ ★ ★ ★

Last night I had a phone jingle from a guy who says I'm all wrong and that it was a Yellow Cabman who should get the posie. When I asked my caller how he knows so much about it he replied: "I was the driver."

There just isn't any answer to one like that.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Red Cross needs blood. Big campaign started in the city yesterday to get 10,000 blood donors lined up before the end of the month.

Come on now you red-blooded boys and girls. Let's not be anemic about this blood-donating business.

★ ★ ★ ★

Now we're going to have a playoff on the Detwiler affair. Why didn't they appoint three umpires like they do in big leagues?

★ ★ ★ ★

People are sure travelling a long way to see Canada's northland these days. At the Mac hotel yesterday, after a big game hunting trip along the Alaska Highway were: W. E. Burk, architect; Dr. Frank C. Hibben, anthropologist and Col. R. L. Harrison, U.S. Army, all of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The distinguished hunters got a full bag of mountain sheep, goats, caribou and moose.

★ ★ ★ ★

A very goodnight to all and especially to the stork.

That apple for teacher stuff is discarded by Joan Orr, 9537-110 avenue, as she prances to school with bouquet of gladioli. Strathcona Fears Higher Taxation

Edmonton Annexation Proposal Protested

A wave of protest is rolling in on Strathcona municipal office from residents who fear higher taxes if five square miles of the municipality are annexed by the city of Edmonton.

T. Roberts, secretary-treasurer of Strathcona, said yesterday that he has received "numerous calls protesting" the move.

"We have had nothing official on the proposal by City Planner Noel Dant, although we knew it was in the wind," he said.

A meeting Friday of the Edmonton District Planning Commission will consider Edmonton city council's suggestion that 5,440 acres now in Strathcona, bounded by present eastern city limits, the river, west side of Imperial Oil storage property, and the CPR line, be added to Edmonton.

It will also be asked by Mr. Dant to consider adding two parcels of land immediately north of the South Side Drive-in Theatre, also now in Strathcona.

Mr. Roberts said Strathcona residents who have called him since Monday's newspaper stories of the annexation proposal have feared higher taxes may result.

He said municipal officials should be given adequate time to study Mr. Dant's proposal.

Strathcona will be represented at the district commission meeting by its reeve, G. W. Moyer of Fort Saskatchewan.

Asked about a comparison of Strathcona and Edmonton taxes, Mr. Roberts said it would be difficult to work one out.

Strathcona has a 43 mill rate and assessments based on two-thirds of value.

Edmonton has a 49.5 mill rate and different assessments, compiled by a 60 per cent assessment on business property and a 50 per cent assessment on private homes.

ROTARIANS VISIT CITY

Camrose Rotary Club shifted its weekly venue 68 miles this week.

Ten car loads of club members motored to Edmonton today to hold their meeting in the King Edward hotel, instead of their home town.

This morning they flew over the city in RCA planes. Courtesy trips were arranged to give members a birdseye view of the oilfields. They also will visit the Imperial Oil refineries.

Best Returns Racked Up By City Trams

Most heavily-travelled transit route in the city again paid off for Edmonton's ancient trams during July.

With 8.30 passengers per car-mile, the radiers turned in an overall profit of $4,753 according to figures released today by ETS superintendent Thomas Ferrier.

Trolley coaches, with 6.85 passengers per car-mile, lost money on two lines, but picked it up enough on the other two lines to wind up with a $1,444 profit.

Motor buses, perennial black sheep in ETS operations, carried only 5.00 passengers per car-mile and went so far into the hole—$17,484 to be exact—that the whole system wound up with a $7,673 deficit.

ONE ROUTE AHEAD

Only one motor bus route, the 101 street line, showed a profit, and that only $407. Bonnie Doon, on the other hand, piled up a $6,049 loss, while Calder route was $3,947 in the red.

Passengers carried on all lines during July increased 59,104, bringing the seven-month total passenger increase over last year up to 370,077.

To July 31 this year, 27,943,186 patrons were carried, against 21,606,109 at the same date a year ago.

New Record Is Set In City Building

Issue of more than $2,200,000 worth of city building permits Tuesday set a 1950 daily record and put the year's all-time record to date close to the $31,000,000 mark.

New construction authorized by the city building inspector's department included a $1,000,000 superstructure for Alberta government's new administration building, three 28-suite apartment buildings worth $300,000, and a $250,000 church.

Route Construction are contractors for the government building on 98 avenue, between 108 and 109 streets. Basement and foundations were covered in an earlier permit, and steel frame is almost completed.

Permits for the three apartments, to be built on 109 avenue between 110 and 111 streets, were taken in the name of Dr. Charles Dixon, c/o Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co.

Of frame and stucco construction, with no garages, the buildings will each be worth $100,000.

Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Parish of St. John will build the $250,000 church at 10051-107 street. It will be a single-storey brick and the structure, 82x105 feet.

Forced Retirement

After he was deposed, Emperor Napoleon III of France retired to Chislehurst, Kent, England, where he lived until his death in 1873.

University Area Parents Protest School Zoning

A delegation of 70 parents of University school district last night lodged a protest to the Edmonton School Board against assigning of their children to inconveniently located schools.

They represented several hundred citizens and tax-payers from that district, who complained that their children, previously attending University school, this year were assigned to other schools which are not so conveniently located.

Spokesman for the group, John Whyte, 11115-89 avenue, in a written protest, said parents felt the situation is intolerable as children who could easily walk across the street to University school are now required to go nearly a mile to their assigned school.

NEW SCHOOL

Protest also said parents of school children in the area south of University avenue had been led to understand for the past three years that a new school would be built.

This has already been discussed, according to the board, and tenders for a new school in the district will be called for within the next 2 days. It is expected that it would take over a year to complete.

Last night the Board members took no immediate action on the matter but decided to further discuss it among themselves. Next Tuesday they will hand down their decision to representatives of the delegation.

Fees for the three types of subjects will vary according to the number of hours the student spends in class each week. One hour a week classroom instruction will cost $2.50 per term, two hours $5, and four hours per week $10 per term.

Basic English classes of four hours each week will cost the student $6 for one term.

In all cases, classes must be attended by a sufficient number of pupils before a course is authorized.

EDMONTON GYRO MAN REWARDED FOR GYRO

For his outstanding contribution to the work of Gyro—on an international and local scale, Roy Miller, secretary of the Edmonton Gyro Club, has been awarded a key from International Gyro.

The key was presented by A. Russell Carter, international vice-president, at a special luncheon of Gyrette and Gyro members at the Macdonald Tuesday.

Civic Utilities Show Big Surplus In July

Edmonton's five civic utilities during July piled up more than twice the surplus of July, 1949.

That brought the seven-month surplus this year nearly 50 per cent higher, and still is $41,472 to the good on the year's operations. At July 31 last year it had a deficit of $18,831.

A financial statement released today by City Comptroller Fred Ockenden shows July surplus of $119,140, compared with $52,170 in the same month last year.

Total surplus to July 31 this year was $947,997, against $612,728 at the same date in 1949.

TRANSIT LOSS

Only utility to show a July loss was the transit system, which went $7,673 in the hole. But it has been showing profits since last November, and still is $41,472 to the good on the year's operations. At July 31 last year it had a deficit of $18,831.

Electric light department made a profit of $40,046 in July, the power plant $34,962, telephones $25,251, and waterworks $26,553.

Taxes totalling $69,142 have been paid into city coffers by the five utilities this year, compared with $555,753 to July 31 last year.

Board Appoints Vice-Principal At High School

The appointment of William H. Coull as assistant principal at the Eastwood elementary-junior high school was approved by the Public school board last night.

He will present a teacher at Donald Ross school. Coull replaces R. M. Cupples, who resigned.

Six new teachers were also appointed to the Edmonton Public School Board staff at the meeting.

They were: Mrs. Norine Kellet, B.A., as substitute teacher for Eastwood high school; Mrs. M. Hodgkins, Mrs. Eva Whitby and Mrs. E. G. Bond for Bellevue, New Glenora and H. A. Gray schools on a temporary basis; and Walter Love and Albert Love, to the Industrial Arts staff on a part-time basis.

Farewell Held For Trochu Man

TROCHU, Sept. 13—A farewell for Crawford Ferguson, Rhodes Scholarship winner, was held in the basement hall of the St. Paul's United church on Friday evening with a good crowd attending.

Rev. O. R. Lavers was chairman and mentioned how Crawford had taken the services in the church on different occasions. He extended good wishes from the congregation.

Guest speaker was Rev. K. Hauer of Edmonton, former Trochu man and later pastor of St. Paul's United Church, Trochu, for a number of years. He gave an address on knowledge and wisdom. Tom Smith spoke on behalf of the Sunday school which Crawford had attended from childhood, and presented him with a gift from the congregation.

Crawford left Monday to spend two years at Oxford University.

Building Industry To Show Latest Trends

Edmonton's second annual Better Homes Exposition, "show window" of the building industry, will open in the Sales Pavilion at the Exhibition Grounds here at 1:30 p.m., September 19.

The exposition, a sponsored jointly by Edmonton House Builders' Association and the National House Builders' Association Inc., and will feature over 50 exhibits displaying every phase of home construction. It will be open from 1 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. daily from next Monday to Saturday.

Exhibits are being set up by local and national firms in the building trades to demonstrate the latest trends.

The exposition comes here after a successful year's operation in Canadian cities. An estimated 350,000 saw the show in six centres where it has been presented to date.

Construction and planning from cellar to attic in home improvement, building and modernization will be on display, including the latest in furnishing and home decorating.

The big show here will be highlighted by such special features as the "Queen of the Day" award and the display of prize winning models in the "Home of Tomorrow" contest.

Entries for the "Queen of the Day" event have been coming into the Bulletin by the thousands in the past few weeks.

By the terms of the contest each day of the exposition at 5 p.m. an Edmonton housewife will be chosen queen for that day. The prize is a 14-day all-expense trip to Hollywood, arranged by the Edmonton Travel Agency.

A major attraction of the show is the $14,000 "Home of Today" bungalow built by the show management. It will be furnished by Sprague Furniture Ltd.

Numerous added attractions involving $6,000 in prizes for admission ticket buyers will round out the week's activities.

Pensions, Defences Discussed By Chamber

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 13.—(CP)—Canadian Chamber of Commerce delegates chewed yesterday on a triple serving of pensions, defence and exchange of Canadian-United States natural resources.

Jean Lesage, member of Parliament for Montmagny-L'Islet, Que. and member of Canada's delegation to the United Nations, said health minister Paul Martin has told him that the matter of old age security will definitely be on the agenda of the forthcoming federal-provincial conference.

In an outline of the report of the joint parliamentary committee on old age security, he commented:

"I am not one of those who believe that, under the present circumstances, we must fight the ideology of Communism only by protecting ourselves by the force of arms. We must protect ourselves inside the country, against Communism, by assuring a steady social and economic progress."

MEANS TEST

Dr. Robert M. Clark, of the university of British Columbia, said in part:

"It does not appear that it will be feasible to eliminate the means test entirely in the years immediately ahead. To introduce a contributory pension system that does not take into consideration potential inflation is to underwrite injustice to those who contribute to it. One of the greatest contributions democratic governments could make over the years to the welfare of their citizens would be to use their influence decisively to stabilize the general price level."

"If it be accepted that pension plans should allow for changes in the cost-of-living . . . I suggest a direct method of adjusting pensions would be preferable—one in which pensions were automatically adjusted say every three months in accordance with changes in the cost-of-living index.

Yesterday's discussions on "mobilizing for defence" were held in closed session with defence minister Brooke Claxton and other defence heads.

OIL MOVEMENT

Richard L. Bowditch, of Boston, vice-president of the United States chamber of commerce, in a luncheon address suggested virtually-free movement of oil and coal between Canada and the United States.

He opposed some American proposals that would put a tariff on all foreign oils. He suggested that American coal move into central Canada without protection for Nova Scotia coal and that Nova Scotia coal be moved so that it could move into New England. He forecast that Canadian iron ore will lead to major steel developments in New England and he advocated use of Canadian and American shipping between the ports of either country, according to how it might be one most economically and efficiently.

Fire Equipment Improves Dept.

Drumheller, Sept. 13—A new fire truck and full quota of gear, scheduled to arrive here from eastern Canada within the next two months, will give Drumheller fire fighting equipment comparable with other Alberta cities, said J. J. Paul, city manager.

The new equipment, costing nearly $9,000, will augument some of the up to date features of the present accessories.

The truck chassis will be delivered to Hamilton for complete equipping. Among the features of the rig will be fog nozzles enabling fire fighters to snuff out many blazes without attaching hoses to hydrants.

Water for the fog nozzle equipment will be carried in 500-gallon tank mounted on the new fire truck.

Alberta Wolves Thriving In Scottish Zoo

Five Alberta-born timber wolf pups are thriving in Scotland.

The wolf pups were captured in Banff National Park, and, with 24 chipmunks and eight raccoons caught in Ontario's Georgian Bay National Park, were shipped to the Royal Zoological Society of Scotland. The Canadian animals are supplementing Dominion wildlife stocks which had fallen below normal at the Edinburgh Zoo in recent years.

Zoo officials say the wolf pups are thriving and contented in their new surroundings, 6,000 miles from their original home.

Prices of Men's Clothing Due For Drastic Increase

It's going to cost more to keep warm this winter, men.

Clothiers in Edmonton today forecast a rise in practically all articles of men's clothing, "especially woollen goods."

Only ones to keep their heads level in midst of rising prices were hat retailers. Hats will be maintained at the present level, they said.

Shoes, on the other hand, are due to join in the general upswing with a boost of five to 10 per cent in most lines this fall, one dealer stated glumly.

Suits, top coats, pyjamas, underwear, sox, are all expected to cost more this fall and be even more expensive by spring, retailers said. Letters from eastern manufacturers indicated serges and some gabardines are already "up three ranges." That would add $4 to $5 to the price of a suit, retailers here estimate.

Shirts are holding for fall, they added, but are expected to be higher in price by spring.

Main cause of the impending price increases, they said, was "the fantastic rise in the price of Australian wool."

Chris Walrath, chairman of the Men's Fashion Council of Canada backs this up with a published statement that there is not enough fine wool to clothe the world at the present time.

The fashion council chairman said stock piling by "every government in the world" has contributed to the increase in wool prices.

But clothing from cotton fabrics will also join in the spiralling price picture, dealers said. They attributed increases here to boosts in cost of U.S. cotton in wake of Korean war.

Glossy price forecast is reflected in conservative trends in fall fashions. Retailers in Edmonton said the bold look was vanishing from the men's clothing scene but "not much change" in style was noticeable this year.

And it may be just a coincidence, but a predominant color in latest men's wear accessories is blue.

WHY GROW OLD

Dry Land Swimming Is Great Figure-Molder

By Josephine Lowman

Swimming is a great figure molder. The overarm stroke is especially fine for toning the bustline and the upper arm.

The breast stroke is one of the finest spinal exercises you can take and is also corrective to round shoulders and a flabby inner leg.

You can take some of the strokes used in swimming on land, in fact in your own bedroom.

Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Do the overarm stroke, reaching forward with the right arm as the left arm moves back. Pull down and back vigorously with the right arm as though you were in the water. As the right arm pulls down the left arm reaches froward, and so forth. Palms face the floor as you pull.

LEG ACTION

Another exercise which copies the leg routine of the breast stroke is this one.

Lie on your back on the floor. Bend both knees up over the stomach. Straighten the legs and place them on the floor as far apart as comfortable. Drag the legs together, stiff knees. Do not lift the legs from the floor during this latter movement.

Continue, bending knees, straightening knees, placing legs on the floor separately and then scraping the legs together.

Paris Puts Its Seal On Fleece Coats

I've never been more thrilled than when I found that fleece coats—the darling of American women for years—were the smartest coats in the fall collections of the Paris dreamsakers this year. Of course I must admit that the fabrics were the most glamorous fleeces I've ever seen—long hairy ones that look like teddy bears, heavy shaggy ones like poodles, and even some that are clipped to look like little curly lambs! Only a few of these new fabrics have arrived over here as yet but we have beautiful shaggy fleeces of our own as you know. So when you buy a new fleece coat this fall you may have the happy knowledge that it's a fashion shown in Paris, too.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Shouldn't Burden Parents With Support Of Wife

Dear Miss Dix: I am not yet 19 years old but I want to marry.

The girl is a year older than I am and is willing, but my parents are not, giving as a reason that I am too young and am not able to make a living. I cannot deny this. What do you think I should do?

DICK.

ANSWER: There isn't but one honorable and decent thing you can do, and that is to put off marrying until you can support a family. Providing for his wife and children is a man's own responsibility and he has no right to dump that on anybody else's shoulders.

Certainly a boy has very little self-respect and manhood about him if he marries a girl and brings her home for his parents to support, and he is a still more abject and despicable creature when he becomes a parasite upon his wife's people.

FAMILY'S POINT OF VIEW

Try to look at this matter from your parents' point of view and see what a rotten deal you are giving them if you marry before you can provide for a family.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Quick Treatment When Child Swallows Poison

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When children are on the loose, almost anything is apt to happen—and usually does. Little ones crawling on the floor pick up any dropped object and put in their mouths.

Children swallow fluids the very thought of which makes an adult nauseated. However common their household use, such poisons as lye, ammonia, bleaching fluids, should be kept corked and out of the youngsters' reach. Poisonous medicines should be clearly marked and kept on the highest shelves.

And medicines, or laxatives, which may be thrown about as advertisements, should be picked up hastily and kept out of reach.

EMPTY THE STOMACH

Quick vomiting will rid the stomach of poisons or drugs before they have a chance to act. Warm water, when taken in large quantities, will promote vomiting and if this doesn't work, the mother, finger down the child's throat will certainly do the trick. More warm water and more vomiting, then you may call the doctor. It would be the unusual mother who could remember all the antidotes for poisons, but she can't do wrong by emptying the child's stomach when she is sure some deadly dose has been swallowed.

Every household should have a kit of home remedies containing sterile gauze bandages, commercial bandages for small wounds and scratches; some safe remedy for burns and some antiseptic for superficial scratches.

Our leaflet No. 12 on "First Aid in Emergencies" can be pasted on the inside of the bathroom door. It may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Bride Wed At Holy Trinity

Two Moose Jaw families were united Saturday, by the wedding in Holy Trinity Church here, of Frances Joyce Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis to William G. Aldcroft, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Aldcroft.

Wearing a corsage of pink roses and navy accessories to complement her white gabardine suit, the bride was given in marriage by her father, in a ceremony performed by Rev. Donald Moore, formerly of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. A. T. La Borde, attended the bride in a navy gabardine suit with cinnamon accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

W. E. Miller was best man. A. T. La Borde ushered.

Mrs. Ellis chose a pastel green suit with black accessories for her daughter's wedding, and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

Bridegroom's mother wore a grey gabardine suit, with wine accessories and similar corsage.

A cold-plate and sweet course decorated the Cottage Tea Rooms for the reception. A three tiered wedding cake was topped with rose buds and sweet peas and flanked by lighted tapers.

Bridal toast was proposed by Rev. Moore.

For her honeymoon trip to Red Deer, the bride wore a wine and grey ensemble with a pink rose corsage.

Newly weds will make their home in Redwater.

Big Canadian Force For Europe Unlikely

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(BUP)—Winston Churchill's suggestion that Canada send two or three divisions of troops to bolster western Europe's combined defence force received scant encouragement in Ottawa today.

The general feeling was that he was asking too much from a country which already is doing everything short of actually declaring war to protect itself and help out in Korea.

Churchill, wartime British prime minister, included Canada yesterday in a plea for a 70-division "European army." He suggested in parliament that Canada provide two or three divisions and the United States send 10.

NUMBER LIMITED

One defence source commented that fulfillment of Churchill's request would mean sending 40,000 to 60,000 Canadians to Europe. He said there were far less than that available.

An order-in-council passed within the past week limited the number of Canadian troops available even to the United Nations to 15,000, of whom 5,000 are in training for probable Korean duty.

Raising a force of 40,000-plus, the informant said, would mean putting Canada on a complete war footing at a time when widespread tax hikes had gone into effect and assorted controls were imposed in a move which the government believed was a peacetime limit.

JACOBY on Canasta

The following letter from Chicago is self-explanatory:

"Here's a real dilly of a problem if I ever saw one. The stock pile was very large. Our side had already melded our 120 points but not so our opponent.

"I discarded a nine. The player to my left picked it up and melded her required 120 points. But she did not have a natural pair of nines in her hand, and her required 120 was thusly.

9-9-2 10-10-2 K-K-2

"After everyone counted her 120 points, she continued to meld of the pile she had picked up. However, no one noticed this error, until the next player had picked a card from the closed pack, made a three-card meld for our side and discarded. Then I discovered the error.

A terrific debate followed as to penalty, penog, whose fault, discovered too late, etc. Would you please straighten us out. We're completely stumped!" (Signed "Perplexed Sextet.")

I admit the question is a dilly; however, the sextet have a simple way of solving their problem. Law 29, of the Official Laws of Canasta, as found in my books and all the other standard books on the game, reads as follows:

"Condonement of Illegal Melds: If after an illegal meld the next player completes his play before attention is drawn to the error, there is no penalty. An initial meld with insufficient count stands as a correct first meld. Likewise, all other properly melded combinations stand as correct. Combinations of cards that do not form a meld are replaced in the offender's hand.

"COMMENT: An example of cards that do not form a meld would be king-ten-deuce. Such cards are replaced in the offender's hand if the error is condoned."

Hence, in this instance, since the next player has completed his play, the entire play and meld stand as legal and the opponents have no redress.

Incidentally, this letter shows exactly why the law was made that way. If an illegal meld could be called at any time, imagine what would happen if instead of being discovered after one player had played, it was not discovered until several plays had been made. It would take the Supreme Court of the United States to reconstruct the hand and assess the proper penalties, etc. In fact, I believe even the Supreme Court would disqualify itself.

Claxton Cancels Plans to Visit Points at Coast

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton has cancelled plans for a visit to Vancouver and Victoria, B.C., because of pressure of business in Ottawa, the RCAF reported last night.

The Air Force said the defence minister had planned to visit Victoria yesterday and Vancouver tomorrow. The RCAF had been asked to provide air transportation to Patricia Bay airport, Vancouver Island.

Mr. Claxton has been in Banff, Alta., where he spoke at the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

John Decore, Vegreville Goes to United Nations

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(CP)—The government yesterday named parliament's only Ukrainian-Canadian to serve with Canada's delegation to the General Assembly of the United Nations.

He is John Decore, a barrister and former school teacher and now Liberal member of the commons for the Alberta riding of Vegreville. His parents came to Canada from the Ukraine in 1897 and he was born 41 years ago at Andrew, Alta.

Mr. Decore has made a study of eastern European problems and is a member of the commons committee on external affairs.

He leaves for New York shortly as one of a small group of parliamentary advisers that will accompany the delegation. The others are M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel), Gordon Higgins (PC—St. John's east), and Solon Low, Social Credit leader.

In addition, the delegation itself will include external affairs Minister Pearson, leader; veterans Minister Lapointe, Jean Lesage (L—Montmagny), John Dickey (L—Halifax) and Senator Gray Turgeon (L—British Columbia).

Manslaughter Suspect Out

MEDICINE HAT, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Michael Genret, 26-year-old Redcliff laborer, held on a manslaughter charge, was released on $2,000 bail last night. He was arrested following the death yesterday of William Brandenberg, 49-year-old Barnwell sheep rancher.

Genret was released after a coroner's jury heard evidence on Brandenberg's death outside a cafe, following an alleged fracas with Genret.

Witnesses said the two were arguing over a job Genret was to take with Brandenberg at Rolling Hills. Both were under the influence of liquor at the time.

The inquest was adjourned without verdict, and without the cause of death being disclosed.

MASTER'S WHISTLE RECOVERS LOST CAT

RIDGEWOOD, N.J., Sept. 13.—(UP)—Marquise, the lost cat which 5,000 penny postcards failed to recover, answered his master's voice last night three weeks after he disappeared from a veterinarian hospital.

Marquise jumped from a thicket near the hospital into the arms of Paul T. Richard of West Nyack, N.Y., his persevering owner. Richard had combed the hospital area every night whistling in a way the cat knew.

Richard and his wife had received no response from postcards notifying residents of Ridgewood and West Nyack of the cat's loss.

Britain Draws On Military Reserves

Planes, Warships Taken Out of 'Mothball' Fleets

By E. S. Johnson

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Britain is drawing heavily on her military reserves—consigned to "cold storage" after the Second World War—in strengthening her defences to meet the uncertainties of the mounting international crisis.

Already orders have gone out from the admiralty to thaw out 89 units of the country's so-called "frozen fleet," sealed scientifically since 1945 but kept ready for action on short notice.

Hundreds of planes have been taken out of mothballs, while reserve tanks, guns and other armaments are being refitted and reconditioned for service.

These are among measures taken by the defence department under the emergency program approved late in July.

GO OVERSEAS

Much of the reserve has been earmarked to bolster Britain's increased commitments in Korea and other Far-Eastern trouble spots, but some of it will be retained to buttress western European and home defences.

In its announcement, the admiralty made known that among the ships to be recommissioned are 35 minesweepers, 24 landing craft, nine frigates, seven destroyers, five boom-defence ships and some miscellaneous vessels.

The refitting job has been allocated to private yards in 10 different areas. Immediately after the present schedule is completed it is understood other groups will be assigned so that most ships in the reserve fleet can be brought to a high state of readiness.

COMPLETE CARRIERS

Apart from this program, work is being speeded up on completion of four aircraft carriers. Laid down toward the end of the war, each has a displacement of 18,300 tons, speed of 30 knots and is equipped to carry 50 planes. It is thought they will not be ready before the end of the year.

Actual strength of Britain's armament reservoir has been cloaked in secrecy for security reasons. It is common knowledge, however, that vast stores of aircraft, tanks, armored cars, and fighting ships of almost every category were put away for safe-keeping after the war.

DEVON ADDS CLASSROOMS

DEVON, Sept. 13.—New five-room, $50,000 school being built at Devon is expected to have two rooms ready for classes next week.

Supplementing the present four-room building, the new school will give Devon facilities for eight classrooms and a recreation room. Six rooms are operating this term.

New West Construction are contractors for the new school.

Officer Tells Of Confession

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—(CP)—RCMP Sgt. George Woodward testified yesterday at the murder trial of Thomas Rosaler 46, that the accused had confessed to him the killing of RCMP constable Alex Gamman here last May 30 during a bank robbery.

Sgt. Woodward said Rosaler admitted the slaying while he was being escorted back to Montreal from a small Montana-Saskatchewan border town where the suspect was captured after a country-wide hunt.

The officer quoted the prisoner as saying: "I guess you guys know that you got the right man."

Rosaler has pleaded innocent to the murder.

Earlier yesterday, Rosaler was identified in court by a bank manager and four other witnesses as the man who held up the downtown Beaver Hall Hill branch of the Bank of Toronto here. Gamman, an unarmed Bank of Canada guard, tackled the robber on the street, and was fatally shot during the scuffle.

"See this model? It was made before I was born, and when Arvida was just farmland. Yet I can show you on it just where our house is, and the streets along which I come to work, or go to the stores, or to church, or to play tennis or ski. And I can show you the aluminum smelter where my father works, and the powerhouse where my boyfriend works—and the house in which we're going to live when we're married.

The smelter at Arvida, the powerhouses at Shipshaw close by, the wharves at Port Alfred a few miles away—these are only parts of what Alcan has planned and built in Canada during the last fifty years. Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

A little while after Uncle Wiggily had gone to look for an adventure, and had met his cousin Jumper Hare from Green Tree Valley the telephone rang in the hollow stump bungalow.

"I'll see who it is," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Hello! Hello!" she called into the telephone. She listened a moment and then said:

"Oh, Mrs. Longears, it's Bounce, the sea dog."

"What does he want?" asked the rabbit lady wife.

"Bounce wants to speak to Uncle Wiggily. It's something about the amusement raft in Frog Pond. Where is Uncle Wiggily, Mrs. Longears?"

"I don't know, Nurse Jane. Wiggy went out a little while ago to look for an adventure. Goodness knows when he will come back. When Wiggy goes adventuring there is no telling anything about him. Tell Bounce that I'll have Wiggy call him as soon as he comes in. Better, you had better go look for your father. Tell him Bounce wants to talk to him."

"All right, Mother, I will," said Buster.

"I'll give you a piece of cake for yourself, Buster. But the other piece is for Uncle Wiggily."

"All right," Buster answered. "I'll go look for Daddy."

Away he hopped, a piece of carrot shortcake in each paw, one piece for himself and the other piece for Uncle Wiggily. Away hopped Buster.

"Do you think Buster will be able to find Uncle Wiggily, Mrs. Longears?" inquired Nurse Jane as she hopped back to the kitchen.

"Yes, I think so," said the rabbit lady wife. "Buster is a scout and scouts know many things. Buster will find his daddy and tell him to call Bounce on the telephone."

On and on hopped Buster. He stopped a moment to take a bite of the piece of cake in his left paw. Then he hopped on a little farther.

"Um!" he said. "That was jolly good carrot shortcake! I'll take another bite." Then he took a bite from the piece of cake in his right paw. But he had no sooner eaten it than he said: "Oh, golly! That piece of cake in my right pay was for Daddy. And now I have taken a bite out of it! Oh, how impolite I am! Dear me!"

Suddenly there was a rustling noise in the bushes.

"Maybe that's Daddy now," thought Buster. "I'll tell him I took a bite of Daddy's cake by mistake."

"Oh, that is easily made all right," barked Chief. "I'll tell you what to do." What did Chief the police dog tell Buster? I will tell you tomorrow if the flash light will go down in the dark cellar and turn itself on so the potato can see to play basket ball with the apple.

Truman Drops Defence Secretary

Gen. Marshall Will Succeed Louis A. Johnson In Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—President Truman dropped Louis A. Johnson from his cabinet with dramatic suddenness yesterday and asked Gen. George C. Marshall to succeed him as secretary of defence.

The general, formerly secretary of state and army chief of staff during the Second World War, announced his acceptance at his Leesburg, Va., home. He is 69 years old.

The president's decision to drop Johnson reversed his earlier staunch defence of the chief of the United States military establishment.

Criticism of Johnson has snowballed on Capitol Hill and elsewhere on the ground that he was fundamentally responsible for defence weaknesses brought into glaring focus by the Korean war.

PROVOCATIVE STATEMENT

Much of the criticism harked back to Johnson's statement months ago that if the Russians struck at four o'clock in the morning, the U. S. would strike back at 5 a.m.

Johnson later stood by his guns on that statement, explaining he meant that American long-range bombers would be ready to strike retaliatory blows within an hour after a Soviet aerial assault on the United States.

Johnson himself, in resigning, recommended the appointment of Marshall as one who would be "an inspiration to the people of the United States and tto our Allies."

The White House said Marshall agreed to accept the appointment.

President Truman, it was announced, will immediately seek legislation to enable Marshall to accept the post.

SUFFICIENT TALENT

Any artist who displays sufficient talent will fill a spot on the program.

"Opportunity Knocks," first broadcast in 1947, will take the air again on Sept. 18.

High Costs Will Forestall Rail Line to Alaska Now

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(BUP)—Parliament was told today that high costs make it virtually impossible for Canada and the United States to build a railway through British Columbia from the U.S. border to Alaska.

External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson says construction of the railway at this time would mean spending money on a project not regarded as essential for defence.

Pearson was commenting on reports that the U.S. government had revived proposals for construction of the railroad. The reports are attributed to Senator Magnuson of Washington who said the U.S. wants to open discussions this month.

Pearson said the U.S. embassy in Ottawa has informed his department that the United States "may wish to discuss the railway later this month." However, he said there have been no detailed Canadian-American talks and that Canadians made "no decision as to how far this matter should be gone into at the present time."

COST 'VERY HIGH'

The external affairs minister said he told the house last year that a Canadian survey revealed the cost of building the railway would be very high. There is no indication, he said, that the United States holds a different view.

A number of individuals in western Canada, Pearson said, believe the United States is prepared to bear most if not all the costs of construction. This is not the case.

LONDON — (Reuters) — Another bright day in markets produced several firm features. Rising prices followed the defence debate in parliament and were particularly marked in those issues likely to be affected.

Overseas buying was reported to be responsible for a sharp rise in Canadian Eagle oils. Other oils were in demand and closed firm.

A firmer trend in International stocks reflected the overnight improvement on Wall Street and spotlighted Canadian Pacific.

TORONTO—It is announced that two additional diamond drill holes will be put down on the 12 claim group of Consolidated Ansley Mines, Limited, adjoining Quesabe Mines, Limited, in Duprat township, near Rouyn.

Viking Ship Given Towns In England

CLIFFSEND, Isle of Thanet, Eng., (CP)—Built by the Danes to celebrate the 1,500th anniversary of the Thanet landings, a viking ship with its dragon figurehead and many colored shields, has been presented to the East Coast towns of Ramsgate and Broadstairs.

The ship, christened the "Hugin," has been berthed in a concrete cradle on a cliff-top prominence near here. It will serve as a permanent monument to the close historical associations between Denmark and Britain.

Replica of the rugged craft that carried the early Norsemen on their voyages of conquest and discovery, the "Hugin" was rowed across the north Atlantic a year ago by a crew of 50 modern vikings. After visiting several British ports it was bought by the London Daily Mail and presented as a joint gift to the two towns.

Thousands watched the colorful ceremony as bearded Danes in picturesque dress, horned helmets and carrying battle-axes, turned the ship over to its new owners.

ROTHERMERE

Viscount Rothermere, chairman of Associated Newspapers, Ltd., in asking Prince George of Denmark to present the ship, declared:

"Since 1066 nobody has repeated the experiment of invading these shores. It this country keeps up its spirit as it has during the past 900 years, I think no one ever will. I trust the "Hugin" may serve as one of the many reminders of the kinship and love between the peoples of Denmark and this country."

Said Prince George: "Nowadays it is not necessary to stress the relationship between Danes and Britons. All the same I think it is good that from time to time this friendship, which is often taken for granted, should be reaffirmed as it was by the visit of the Hugin'."

Wrote Play While POW

LONDON, (CP) — Londoners have been given a new play, "Sayonara," appearing at the New Lindsey Theatre, which its author Ken Attiwill admits was written "under somewhat trying circumstances.

At the close of the opening performance, he gave members of the cast some of the details. The play, he said, had been written in secret during 3½ years he was held a prisoner-of-war in Japan.

"I had three difficulties to overcome," he said. "What to write the play on—as paper was almost unobtainable; how to write it without being detected by the Japanese guards; where to hide the script."

Attiwill found a solution for each problem. The play was written on the back of soap can labels. All the work was done at night by light of the moon. The script was hidden inside a model yacht he carved with a razor blade from a piece of teak wood.

30 Pct. of Russ Income Being Spent On Arms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(UP)—The U.S. army believes Russia has four and a half million men under arms and is spending 30 per cent of her national income on defence.

In a special report to the senate appropriations committee, the army reported that Russia has provided for "nearly complete diversion of its industry to military production and maintains a huge standing army despite "serious labor shortages."

Dollars Quoted In Red China

TOKYO, Sept. 13. — (AP)—The Communist - controlled Bank of China now is quoting the United States dollar at 31,000 Red China dollars to one, the Peiping radio said today. Previously the dollar brought 32,000 Chinese "People's Republic" dollars. The pound sterling rate also dropped slightly from 81,220 Red dollars to one pound to a new figure of 78,210 to one.

Wildcat Wells Reach Record Alberta Mark

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

There are presently more than 130 wells in process in Alberta. Of these 52 are wildcats, an all-time record for Alberta exploration. Redwater development includes 26 wells, Leduc 29 wells.

In northern Alberta the general Peace River area accounts for eight wildcats following discovery of oil at Normandville and Whitelaw.

The general Edmonton area is being probed by 24 wildcats, 12 of them in the territory immediately surrounding the Leduc field and Edmonton city.

Six are busy in the Stettler area as far north as Socony Flint and as far south as Gulf Big Valley.

PLAINS PROBED

Half a dozen more are probing the plains east of Calgary between Lethbridge and Drumheller, and eight are in progress south of a east west line through Lethbridge.

Most westerly wildcat in Alberta is Imperial Royce No. 1, 65 miles west of Peace River. It is now drilling below 4,060 feet.

Most northerly wildcat in Alberta is Shell Watt Mountain No. 1 in township 111, 165 miles north of Peace River. It was last reported drilling near 4,200 feet.

Most easterly wildcat (excluding Lloydminster) is Pacific Western Oyen No. 1, 30 miles west of the Saskatchewan border. It is drilling at 2,500 feet. The east west distance between Imperial Royce and Oyen is 330 miles.

SOUTH WELL

Most southerly well in the province is National Cordesun No. 1, five miles north of the Montana border. It is completing in the Madison lime. The north-south distance between Watt Mountain and Cordasun is 660 miles.

Within the perimeter of these four wells the other 48 wildcats are testing varied districts with varied objectives ranging through Upper Cretaceous, Lower Cretaceous, Jurassic, Triassic, Pennsylvanian, Mississippian (Madison), Upper Devonian, Middle Devonian.

All these formations have considerable representation in Alberta the most widespread being Cretaceous, Madison and Devonian.

So far Cretaceous production has proved the most widespread, Madison the most long-lived, and Devonian the most prolific.

105 DRY HOLES

So far this year 105 dry holes have been drilled in the Alberta perimeter. If the average well cost is considered to be $70,000 the dry hole bill will run to more than $7,000,000 to say nothing of other exploration costs and rental paid.

But for the 105 dry holes, Alberta has following results. A score of gas discoveries and oil discoveries.

New fields are Whitelaw, Acheson, Stony Plain, Flint, Big Valley, Spring Coulee. Sand oil deposits have been found at Bolloque Lake, at Lisburn, at Fina Bulwark. Various extensions have been made at Redwater, at southwest Leduc, at North Woodbend, at Stettler, at Excelsior, at Joseph Lake, at Campbell, and in the strict sense of the term all these extensions should be rated discoveries.

123,400 ACRES

Royalite has expanded its Saskatchewan holdings by 123,400 acres with the purchase of a half interest in 246,800 acres of CPR lands held by Bata Petroleums.

Royalite gets northeast and southwest quarters of every section, Bata retains northwest and southwest quarters. Royalite paid unannounced cash for the rights.

The land is located between townships 37 to 46 and between ranges 16 to 24 west of 3rd.

Royalite has crown permits totalling about 485,000 acres and considerable freehold in Saskatchewan.

★ ★ ★

A new Redwater wildcat aims at a southeastward extension of the Redwater field. Dome Western Simmons No. 29-5 will be just over a mile east of Imperial Simmons No. 1 and a mile south of a drilling field well. It is a mile north of the southeast dry hole extension effort by Western Leaseholds a few weeks ago.

Texaco General Lisburn No. 2 following oil shows in the Viking in the first Lisburn well has failed to find similar results in the Viking but has had a show in the Jurassic. Test 4,488 to 4,497 feet gave a rise of 45 feet of 32 gravity oil and a small amount of mud. The well will go to the Madison.

★ ★ ★

Big Five Leduc No. 1 rates 750 barrels daily in the D-2 zone at Leduc. It is in the southwest portion of the field.

Twenty-six wells are currently being drilled at Redwater, 11 Imperial wells, six Royalite, seven Western Leaseholds, one Anglo Canadian and one Pacific Petroleums.

Gals Invade Coast Auto Racing Game

VICTORIA, B.C.—(BUP)—Move over men—women are invading the car racing tracks.

Six Victoria gals have been thrilling crowds at Langford Speedway with those tricky turns, noisy motors and backfires, and hard races with stock passenger cars.

The six attractive girls make up the female section of the Vancouver Island Track Roadster Association. They claim to be the only women in North America racing competitively on a track.

As one said, "the men won't even let us look at them. Guess they think we might show them up."

EXPERIENCED

Driving their ancient stock cars on tracks is only a busman's holiday as far as these six members of the weaker sex are concerned.

Mrs. H. B. Wisdom drives her own delivery truck.

Margie Cornforth drives her car as an electric appliance saleswoman. During the war Margie drove an ARP ambulance and army truck in the London blitz. Two years ago she quit her modelling job to move to Canada.

Kitty Acton and Eve Sharpe both drive for Victoria garages and car dealers. Marge Lowery handles the biggest daytime job, that of cutting and delivering wood with her own truck.

The sixth competitor is Mickey Fraser, who also wheels a delivery truck through Victoria streets.

New Pet Bambi Exciting Quints More Than N.Y. Trip

CALLANDER Ont., Sept. 13—The Dionne quintuplets have a new pet—Bambi, a three-month old fawn that a neighbor found tangled in a wire fence near here.

Olivia Dionne said last night his five 16-year-old daughters are more excited about Bambi than about their trip to New York next month. But chances are, he said, that Cecile, Annette, Yvonne, Marie and Emilie will start talking more about New York as the big date draws near.

They will be guests at a dinner Oct. 19 by The Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation.

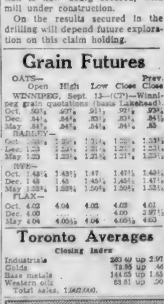

Meanwhile, at the quints' home here in northern Ontario, Bambi gets all the attention. Badly cut and near starvation when freed from the bushland fence three weeks ago, the fawn has been nursed back to health. Its home is the lawn in front of the Dionne house. Papa Dionne has tied up his dogs.

Mr. Dionne denied reports that there has been any dispute between him and his daughters about where they should buy their clothes for the New York trip.

"There never was any question about it," he said. Evening gowns of pale blue taffeta are among the clothes purchased—in nearby North Bay—for the trip.

Said Mr. Dionne of reports that the quints were holding out for a Fifth Avenue shopping spree:

"They won't have any time to buy new clothes in New York. Besides, we couldn't take a chance with the crowds in the stores."

Grocery and Confectionery

Showing A Good Return For Money Invested

With a ...0 yearly turnover, this Grocery Confectionery centrally located has good possibilities, besides being a good buy at $3,500.00, plus the stock, $3,000.00 approximate. It has a good corner location. A good lease can be obtained at $30.00 a month, including two rooms at the rear, suitable for living quarters. The price, again, is $3,500.00 plus stock at invoice, approximately $3,000.00.

ANOTHER

Income tax returns showing the turnover to be over $34,000 per year, can be checked at this grocery located on a Business Corner. Good fixtures and equipment make the price of $7,000.00 a reasonable one. The stock, which is good, live merchandise, runs to $5,000.00, to be bought at invoice price. Living quarters can be obtained, and we have no better business on the books, of this nature.

SMALL GROCERY

Confectionery priced to sell quickly and with the rent at $30.00 monthly, and a Lease of 5 years obtainable. The hours of business are: 8:30 to 6 p.m. only, and the turnover though small is sufficient to make this a worthwhile investment at $5,300.00—with guarantee—$3,000.00 worth of stock, $2,500.00 cash will handle, balance on easy terms.

Vote Expected Today Over Barring of Reds

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—(BUP)—A special Trades and Labor Congress convention committee was expected to rule today on appeals from several union leaders barred from sessions because of Communist affiliations.

A. F. MacArthur of Toronto, secretary of the credentials committee, said the appeals were considered on protests from several unnamed unions. He did not reveal whose appeals the committee studied, but it was believed to include that of R. Kent Rowley, of Montreal, Canadian director of the United Textile Workers of America, and Samuel Lapedes of Toronto, a United Garment Workers' delegate.

Observers doubted whether the appeals would be upheld in light of anti-Communist developments at the TLC's 65th annual convention. Twenty suspected Red union delegates were blacklisted from attending proceedings that started Monday.

At yesterday's session Communists who tried to ram through resolutions asking that the atomic bomb be outlawed saw their effort squelched before it reached the convention floor. The resolutions committee tossed out 15 resolutions as contradictory to one adopted earlier and which pledged the Congress' support to the United Nations.

THREE EJECTED

Three members of the Communist-dominated Canadian Peace Congress were ejected from the convention hall when they tried to pass out leaflets.

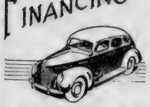

Delegates also adopted a strongly worded resolution blasting trade unions behind the Iron Curtain as "governmental instruments designed for the organized exploitation of workers for the benefit of capitalism serving the U.S.S.R."

Among other resolutions passed yesterday was one calling for a general 40-hour five-day week for Canadian workers. However, delegates disagreed as to what the TLC should demand as a national minimum wage.

A resolution which asked for 75 cents as the minimum rate was referred back to the resolution committee. Several delegates complained the committee had reduced the figure from $1 asked in the original resolution submitted by the Port Arthur, Ontario, Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union.

Allies Soon Go On Attack

AT U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Lt.-Gen. Walton H. Walker today told his Eighth Army it will "take the offensive in a very short period of time."

In a fighting talk to his front-line troops, Walker said:

"Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defence which the delaying action has forced on us. As soon as we start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fold.

"We can feel a weakening of the enemy now.

"And in some positions they actually are pulling out."

The commander said there have been weeks of "agony and suffering" for the army in the long—but necessary—stalling and holding while power was built up to take the offensive.

The great soldier-statesman, who died of a heart attack at his farm home at nearby Irene Monday night, will be given a full military funeral.

The funeral service for the 80-year-old South Afrikaner will be held Friday morning at the Dutch Reformed church. Members of the diplomatic corps will attend the services at the church.

His ashes will be spread over his beloved farm.

Now she can't remember where it is.

Baby Safe After Hours In Old Well

RAINIER, Ore., Sept. 13.—(UP)—A 15-month-old baby was safe in his mother's arms today after spending three hours and a quarter in an abandoned well 12 feet under his home.

A crew of 40 rescuers shoveled frantically to reach Ronald Mysinger, who was lying atop a bucket wedged in an 18-inch well shaft.

Ronald fell into the well about 5 o'clock yesterday. His screams brought his father, Vern Mysinger, running to the scene. Mysinger called on his neighbors for help and within minutes almost the entire population of this Columbia river logging town, some 600 people, responded.

GIVEN OXYGEN

A middle-aged country doctor, M. A. Kenney, inched his way under the house to the well shaft and held an oxygen hose near Ronald's face for more than two hours with his body wedged between the house and the ground.

Cy Campbell, Rainier's one-man police force, organized a rescue crew. With the men working in relays, Campbell shouted until he was hoarse, urging the rescuers to shovel 'faster and faster.

Meanwhile, Ronald's screams grew fainter until finally they stopped altogether. The crowd was silent, praying that soon the men would reach the child.

PULLED TO SAFETY

At last, an unknown member of the rescue crew uncovered the boy, sound asleep. He did not stir.

Then the rescuer called Ronald's name. The boy opened his eyes, smiled and reached out his hands. Ronald was pulled to safety and placed in the arms of his sobbing mother.

60 Motorists Save Lost Plane Pilot

TEKOA, Wash. (UP)—Tommy Thompson, pilot, owes his life to 60 Tekoa autoists who came to his rescue when he was running out of gas.

Thompson, who was flying at night, planned to refuel at Coeur d'Alene, Ida.

However, he drifted a little too far west and missed Coeur d'Alene. He mistook Tegoa for Idaho town.

When Thompson discovered no lights on at the airport, he flew low over the downtown district, cut his motor and shouted, "Airport! Airport!"

Several citizens heard his cries and ran up and down the streets repeating the cry for help. As if by magic, the main street was suddenly filled with automobiles headed for the local airport.

LIGHT SIGNALS

One man turned his spotlight upward and blinked it.

The motorist, leaving the spotlight turned skyward, sped to the airport with Thompson's plane following low overhead. Sixty cars lined up facing the runway. In the massed glare of their lights, Thompson made a perfect landing. It was less than 15 minutes since his first cry had been heard.

$50,000 Fire Strikes Heart of Village

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., Sept. 13.—Fire swept through the centre of Rolla village early yesterday morning, causing an estimated $50,000 damage when four buildings were destroyed.

Rolla is about 14 miles north of Dawson Creek.

The blaze started in Dahlen's Store about one a.m. and quickly spread to other buildings. Before the fire was brought under control, the Elks Hall, McDonald's Building and the residence of F. Stewart were destroyed.

Volunteer fire fighters prevented the fire from spreading to a garage and hotel by running hoses from a nearby dugout and spraying water on the buildings.

LUXURY SAILBOAT masts jut up through wind-whipped waters in Biscayne Bay after recent hurricane winds ripped boat from its moorings and sunk it off Miami, Fla. Small but dangerous hurricane built up power for another strike at northwest Florida coast after skirting populous resort areas. In background, police boat tows speedboat to safety.

Police Investigate Charges That Workers Assaulted

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 13.—(BUP)—Police today investigated charges that striking sanitation workers assaulted two city workmen, sending one of them to hospital with head injuries.

The attack yesterday highlighted an otherwise peaceful day on the troubled Hamilton labor scene. In contrast to Saturday and Monday, when strikers clashed with police at the city dump, few pickets were on duty and police report that they patrolled quietly.

Edward Shephard, 21, told police that he and another man were working on a sewer when 15 men drove up in two cars. The men, reportedly strikers, knocked him unconscious, roughed up his companion and left.

Shephard was taken to a hospital with head injuries. His condition was reported as good by attendants.

Police said he was unable to identify any of his attackers personally but believed they were strikers.

Meanwhile, officials of Local Five, Hamilton Civic Employes Union, indicated that an appeal might be made direct to provincial labor minister Arthur Daley in an effort to break the deadlock in the five-weeks-old strike.

Louis Fine, the provincial government's chief labor conciliator, was reported preparing to intervene, but union and city officials accused each other of blocking his efforts.

The 1,000 garbagemen, grave diggers and waterworks employes struck for a 40-hour week and a five-cents-an-hour wage boost. The city offered a gradual introduction of the 40-hour week and a $1 a week cost of living bonus.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Maj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, has advised senators that as many at 500,000 men may be inducted into the United States armed services before next July 1.

This was disclosed yesterday with publication of testimony he gave Sept. 1 at a closed session of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

IWA Refuses To Unseat President

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The International Woodworkers of America (CIO) yesterday refused to unseat their president, J. E. Fadling, as sought by a west coast group.

District five with headquarters at Portland, Ore., charged that voting rules were violated when Fadling was elected at the 1949 convention.

Fadling won the office last year by a 300-vote margin over Claude Ballard, who had district five support.

45th Veto Cast By Russ Delegate

Weary UN Delegates Begin Plans for Assembly Meet

By Stanley Johnson

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Security Council delegates, after witnessing Russia's 45th veto, began consultations today for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next Tuesday.

Weary from six weeks of almost daily meetings, they voted to take the rest of the week off and meet for their last pre-assembly session next Monday.

They will take up then Communist China's charges of United States aggression against the Island of Formosa.

Russia yesterday vetoed an American resolution to set up a commission to investigate other Red Chinese charges of American bombings on Manchuria. The council then decisively defeated a Russian move to condemn the U.S. for the alleged attacks. Only the Soviet Union voted for its proposal.

CONSULT ON FORMOSA

Informed sources here speculated that delegates voted the long recess not only to do spade work in preparation for the opening of the general assembly, but to consult their governments on the Formosan issue.

They said such consultation probably is vital to the British, American and French representatives whose foreign ministers are trying to thrash out a Formosan policy at their meetings in New York.

The sources said there would be little point in those delegates debating the Formosan question today, faced with the possibility that the meetings of the Big Three might result in a change of tactics but that by Monday the situation should be clearer.

Many diplomats fear, however, that debate on the issue itself will be delayed by Russia's promised re-introduction of an appeal to invite a representative of the Peiping government to participate.

CLEARS CALENDAR

Yesterday's Russian veto cleared the council's calendar of issues dealing with the Korean war. Observers here feel that the countries fighting under the UN flag to beat back aggression now will turn the problem over to the general assembly, where Russia has no veto.

Gerhart Will Go to Helena

Hon. C. E. Gerhart, Alberta cabinet minister who heads the civilian defence set-up for the province, will attend a defence conference of Canadian and American authorities at Helena, Mont., Sept. 21.

British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan representatives as well as officials from the western United States will attend the talks.

Mr. Gerhart will also go to Chicago for a conference on civil defence Sept. 24.

Cities of Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat have been asked by Mr. Gerhart to submit the names of their representatives on the Alberta co-ordinating committee on civil defence as soon as possible. Mr. Gerhart is chairman of the Alberta provincial committee.

Ship Is Abandoned After Hitting Reef

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 13—(Reuters)—The crew of the 7,000-ton British freighter Empire Gladstone abandoned ship yesterday night when 20-foot waves pounded the vessel.

She had been wrecked on a reef near Eden last Saturday.

Her cargo of iron ore and the ship herself were considered a total loss, but the deck cargo of motor bodies has been salvaged.

Diplomats said privately today that Russia now is in the awkward position propaganda-wise of having prevented an impartial investigation of the alleged bombings. They qualified this somewhat by saying that the U.S. position on the propaganda front might have been even stronger if U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin had not led the fight against permitting a representative of Red China to make the charges in person.
